(This is the eighth in a series of weekly articles written by prominent Palm Springs residents for The Desert Sun. This series will bring to the readers of this newspaper throughout the season the worthwhile viewpoints and ideas of prominent villagers on various subjects of local interest. The writer in each case chooses his own subject, and the column that week is his own to do with as he sees fit. The column this week belongs to the Rev. John Robertson Macartney, pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church.)

PALM SPRINGS, VIEWED FROM THE PULPIT OF THE COMMUNITY CHURCH

From the vantage point of a pulpit one can see not only the congregation before him, but the entire community in which that pulpit is situated. Both look good to me.

Unlike many I did not come here for my health. I knew almost nothing of Palm Springs, having only once driven through the village about 11 years ago. When the invitation came to me to leave my parish in the Northwest and take the pulpit here sight unseen, many thought it was an unwise gamble and told me that I would soon lose all my religion.

Well, when we drove in one evening and finally located the manse and turned on the lights, we found everything ready to welcome us, flowers on the table and the ice box well stocked with all sorts of good things.

We liked Palm Springs from the very start; like it better every day, and count it a privilege to be a citizen of the finest and most desirable place to live we have ever seen.

From my pulpit I see the cross-section of the United States. Besides the many local people, and they are choice, those who assemble here on any Sunday morning during the height of the season come from everywhere.

I took a geological census last February and found there were present in the audience, people from 15 different states.

An ecclesiastical census the following morning showed worshippers from 17 different ecclesiastical bodies.

They all sing the same hymns, read the same Bible, repeat the same Lord's Prayer, recite the same Apostle's Creed, partake of the same memorials of Christ's death, and seem to be happy in the atmosphere of Christian fellowship and meet one another on the same level.

Not once but a thousand times have the words been spoken, "Why could it not be that way everywhere?"

From my pulpit I see a wonderful spirit of harmony, good fellowship and cooperation among the churches and church people which might well be a suggestion to many another community.

Moreover, I see a spirit of friendliness and cooperation on the part of the entire community in all projects undertaken.

Whether it be playgrounds, Field Club activities, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, library, Woman's Club, Annual Circus, Christmas program, Easter sunrise services, and many other community efforts. In fact, Palm Springs is like one great big family.

Artificial barriers and divisions which exist in many localities do not prevail here. May they never.

From my pulpit I see a rapidly growing school population. What with our now complete educational equipment — a grammar school, so-called junior high, and high school, people with families to educate now come to reside here for the entire school year.

Two splendid modern church edifices adorn our village. The

S. P. Magazine
To Feature Scenes Of Palm Springs

Charles R. Litter, advertising agent for the Southern Pacific Company, and E. G. Fitzpatrick, associate editor of the Southern Pacific Monthly, were in the village this week taking pictures of Palm Springs and the desert for the railroad company's magazine. The Southern Pacific Monthly has a circulation of 55,000 and is read each month with great interest by people throughout the country.

They took pictures of the Palm Springs station, and were here primarily to get a good "shot" of a train coming into the Palm Springs station for use on the cover of a coming issue of the magazine. The issue will feature pictures of Palm Springs and the desert.

Council Holds
Final Hearing on Zoning Law

When the final hearing before the city council on the proposed new city zoning ordinance came to a close at noon Wednesday, after another two-hour session during which various property owners appeared before the council and objected to the tentative zoning of their land, Mayor Philip Boyd told the audience at the hearing that no more material will be considered in preparing the new ordinance.

The Mayor explained that the public has been given ample opportunity to be heard on the subject. Hearings have been held both before the planning commission and the city council. This final hearing was held for two hours on October 17, and again for two more hours this Wednesday morning, he pointed out.

About the same group of individuals, for the most part, appeared before the council again this Wednesday.

Turonnet Talks

Armand V. Turonnet again requested that both sides of Palm Canyon Drive between Via Lola and Via Valmonte be zoned C-2; and A. Heber Winder, who said that he represented certain property owners in the Merita Vista Tract, again protested the granting of Mr. Turonnet's request.

Austin G. McManus, one of Palm Springs' largest property owners, appeared at the hearing with many requests for re-zoning of various parcels of his land.

Dr. F. M. White requested that the west side of Indian avenue between Tahquitz Drive and Arenas Road be placed in the R-4 zone instead of in the C-2 zone.

Mrs. Ernest Fleming, Stanley Rosin, Mrs. J. Darsie Lloyd, and a man who stated that he represented the Palm Springs Development Company, also all appeared before the hearing Wednesday.

Most discussed request at the hearing was that of Armand V. Turonnet.

Mr. Turonnet requested that both sides of Palm Canyon Drive from Via Lola to Via Valmonte be zoned C-2 for business. He stated that the character of the street is such that it is suitable only for business uses.

Attorney Winder then got to his feet and stated that the particular group of property owners of Merita Vista Tract who he represents are satisfied with the ordinance as it now stands.

Boyd Makes Statement

Mayor Boyd said that he would like to make a statement of his own feeling in the case of Turonnet and others in that neighborhood. The Mayor stated that it is inconsistent to have zoning different on different sides of the street on the main boulevard. He pointed out that Turonnet's property and other controversial property on the same side of Palm Canyon Drive in that neighborhood is not suitable for residential uses, and that the county tax assessor considers the

Dr. E. Powell Frazer
Winter Resident
Dies at L. A.

Dr. E. Powell Frazer, retired M. D., and one time United States Ambassador to Switzerland, who has lived in Palm Springs for the past several seasons, passed away Tuesday afternoon of this week at Los Angeles.

All last winter Dr. Frazer resided at 413 S. Belardo Road, Palm Springs, and he had many friends in the village. He was close to eighty years of age at the time of his death.

Interment and services were from Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, at 1 p. m., today.

Dance Sat.

Promising to be one of the biggest and gayest events of the season, the First Annual Palm Springs Tennis Tournament Dance will attract a large throng to the Frances S. Stevens School auditorium tomorrow night, Saturday, to dance to the danceable music of Koelsche's nine-piece orchestra and to witness the awarding of tournament prizes.

The Village Tennis Tournament dance culminates a glorious week of tennis for Palm Springs, this week, seeing over 150 residents of the community participating in the first "Village of Palm Springs Annual Amateur Tennis Tournament."

Bill Hay, popular radio announcer, will act as master of ceremonies at the dance tomorrow night and will award the tournament prizes at 10 a. m.

The tournament dance Saturday is sponsored by the City Board of Recreation, and the proceeds derived from the sale of tickets at one dollar per couple will go to improve and add to the public tennis courts at the high school.

The dance starts at 9 p. m.

Senator Phillips
To Address
Lions Club Wed.

Because this coming Thursday, their regular meeting date, will be Thanksgiving Day, the Lions Club will meet next week on Wednesday noon at The Desert Inn with State Senator John Phillips scheduled to be the speaker. The luncheon affair will be held at the regular time, 12:10 noon.

BILL CROSS AND BARNEY JOHNSON
ON HUNTING TRIP

Barney Johnson and Bill Cross left the village Wednesday, bound for the country around Bishop on a Chinese pheasant hunting expedition.

They will spend several days trying to bag a number of the beautiful game birds that are considered such a delicacy.

Masons to Hear Yaeger
Next Tuesday

Dr. Edmund C. Yaeger, author of a number of books on Southern California deserts and mountains, will address the Masonic Club at the Palm Springs Hotel, Tuesday noon, Nov. 21. All Masons residing or visiting in this area are urged to be present and to bring guests.

Dr. Yaeger, who is professor of zoology at Riverside Junior College, is an outstanding authority on desert fauna and flora, and is an intensely interesting speaker. His talk will be of especial interest to Palm Springs visitors for he will tell them about some of the fascinating things in the local desert around Palm Springs.

He is the author of the books, "California Deserts," "Denizens of the Desert," "Denizens of California Mountains" and other volumes to be found in the local library. At the present time he is writing a book listing every known species of flora and fauna to be found on the desert from the northern rim of Death Valley to the Mexican border. He has drawn over 800 illustrations himself for this book.

The Masons are anxious to have a full attendance for this meeting because Dr. Yaeger will travel some distance to come here to address them.

C. of C. To Ask Council
For $1,000

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors yesterday noon voted to ask the city council for an appropriation of $1,000 from business license collections, the money to be used for the Chamber's advertising fund. It was reported that the city receives about $10,000 this year from business licenses, and that a thousand dollars from this fund to be used in benefiting the business interests and property owners would be reasonable. A committee was appointed to meet with the city council.

The Chamber also voted to pay the costs of the recent campaign of dividing the high school district. Secretary M. L. Peterson was instructed to write all those who have made pledges and others asking them to contribute to the Chamber's fund, which is now depleted, and Mrs. Bertha Carter was employed for a period of two weeks to make collections.

MRS. BROWN VISITS

Harold Brown of the El Paseo Pharmacy motored to Pasadena Monday night to get Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Brown had been visiting at the "Rose" city for several days.

Premiere of Garbo's Newest Picture to Celebrate Reopening of Palm Springs Theatre

"Ninotchka," Greta Garbo's first picture in two years, and the Swedish star's first venture into gay, sophisticated romantic comedy, will have its Western premiere here in Palm Springs on Thursday night, Nov. 23, to mark the grand reopening of a redecorated, more luxurious Palm Springs Theatre; and many are the film notables that are expected to be here for the gigantic affair.

Bringing the Western premiere of a picture of the calibre of "Ninotchka" to Palm Springs is another in the long list of entertainment victories that have been scored in recent years by Earle Strebe, talented young local impresario, and is in line with Mr. Strebe's policy of bringing only the very best entertainment to his three splendid theatres here.

The premiere starts at 8:30 p. m., next Thursday, Nov. 23. All seats are reserved and advance sale of tickets starts Monday. Reservation can be made at all leading local hotels and apartments.

A more beautiful, more luxurious Palm Springs Theatre will greet first-nighters as they assemble for the grand re-opening next week. All new seats have been installed, including modern deluxe type loges and opera seats. All new theatre equipment has also been installed.

Palm Springs Gains Right
To Form Own High School
District in Election Tues.

Palm Springs Casts More "Yes" Votes
Than Total Vote of All That Part
To Remain Within Banning District

	Yes	No	Spilled Ballots

Total	1407	448	19
Total votes cast	1874

As a result of the fine work of the Lions Club, Mrs. Charles N. Bosworth and her Woman's Club election committee and the diligent efforts of many other villagers in taking the voters of this city to the polls, Palm Springs this week gained the right to govern the affairs of its own high school when 1164 voters of Palm Springs and Cathedral City went to the polls on Tuesday and cast 1130 ballots in favor of separating from the Banning Union High School district.

Mass Meeting
School House
Monday Night

A general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday evening, Nov. 20, 8 o'clock at the grammar school auditorium. The meeting will be held for the purpose of discussing Chamber of Commerce activities for the present season and various problems of importance to the village. For this reason every citizen and property owner is invited to attend, whether a member of the Chamber of Commerce or not. All business men and women, and local property owners are urged to be present.

Net Tourney
Finals Sat.
At Hi School

Its popularity sweeping over the village like a huge wave, tennis practically engulfed the village this week and usurped the attention of young and old alike as 180 localites plunged into the "hot" competition of the first "Village of Palm Springs Annual Amateur Tennis Tournament."

The tournament opened last Friday, Nov. 10, and has been in progress all this week. The semi-finals were held today. The final rounds will be held on the public courts at the Palm Springs high school all day tomorrow, Saturday, starting at 9 a. m. Bleacher seats have been installed for the spectators, and the public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

A sizzling mixed doubles exhibition featuring some of the world's best players, will be played in the afternoon between matches of the tournament.

Competition in every match of the finals of the tournament promises to be keen and close in the fight for the championship.

Schedule of Finals

Following is the schedule of the final matches of the tournament to be played tomorrow, Saturday:

9 a. m.—Girls under 15 — Miss Pythian vs. Miss Dooley; boys under 15—Raoul Prieto vs. Louis Nichols.

"Yes" by Big Majority

People of Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Edom, Garnet, Banning and Cabazon went to the polls Tuesday to vote on the question "Shall a new high school district be formed from territory within the Banning Union High School District of Riverside County?" The voters' answer was "yes" by a huge majority.

El Mirador's
Guest List Like
World's 'Who's Who'

El Mirador Hotel is 13 years old this season 1939-1940. And turning back the album pages, El Mirador of today is a far cry from El Mirador of 1927.

The resort has grown from out a barren wasteland to its present development that marks it as one of the garden spots of the world—a green oasis in the heart of former sagelands.

El Mirador opened New Year's Eve, 1927. Warren B. Pinney, its present manager-owner, took it over during the season 1929-1930, and has since guided it through 12 years of expansion to make El Mirador of 1939 among the outstanding resorts in the country.

The hotel has grown side by side with Palm Springs. When El Mirador was first built, the location was considered far out in the wilds of the desert. Now the town's finest residential district surrounds the hotel with beautiful homes with swimming pools for El Mirador neighbors. However, the desert in its natural stage still borders the hotel grounds, preserving the picturesque charm of the original setting.

Beautiful El Mirador gardens of today represent 13 years of cultivation, resulting in the present verdant growth around the hotel. Expansive lawns are bordered by

Council Meets
Monday Morning
At 9 O'Clock

The next meeting of the Palm Springs City Council will be held Monday morning, Nov. 20, 9 o'clock, in the council chamber at 380 N. Palm Canyon Drive.

Mayor Philip Boyd recently expressed the wish that more residents of the village would attend the council meetings in order that they might become more conversant with the affairs of their city government. The council chambers are open to the public at all meetings of that body.

PROMINENT HEMET EDITOR MAKES FALSE ACCUSATIONS CONCERNING VAQUEROS RIDE

One of the most outstanding weekly newspaper editors of the West was vacationing in Palm Springs recently. He is Homer D. King, prominent Democratic editor and publisher whose Hemet News is practically the guide book of Riverside County Democrats.

While in the village Editor King devoted his entire column, "OBSERVATIONS" to Palm Springs. Following are reprinted excerpts from Mr. King's "Observations", taken from the Friday, Nov. 3, issue of The Hemet News, in which he makes some uncalled for, false remarks about Palm Springs and the Vaqueros del Desierto:

Palm Springs — It's no secret that the business people down here expect to profit from the war. Tourists who would ordinarily go to Europe are believed headed for California in large numbers. And of course, no tourist counts his California visit complete without a stop at this fabulous resort community where the sun drops behind Mt. San Jacinto at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to provide a long night wrapped in the exotic mystery of the desert.

"The Dunes club, internationally famous high-stakes gambling casino, is doing business as usual, and several other places of chance are said to be operating for the pleasure of the smaller fish. This isn't a county election year.

"Never was Palm Springs more beautiful than now. The panorama of desert verberna and other wildflowers defies description. A local naturalist claims that only once before in 20 years has Palm Springs and the surrounding desert had a verberna display equal to the one at present.

"The Vaqueros del Desierto returned Sunday afternoon from their five-day ride into the wastelands. They are a group of several dozen male socialites and druggstore cowboys who make the ride each year as a publicity stunt to advertise the opening of the desert resort season.

"There is some suspicion that the ride isn't as hard on the boys as their press agents would have the public believe. One report is that they merely ride out to a nearby dude ranch, lie around in hammocks in the day time and enjoy an imported for-men-only floor show at night.

When the Vaqueros departed on their great adventure this year one of them was observed putting an electric razor in his saddle bag.

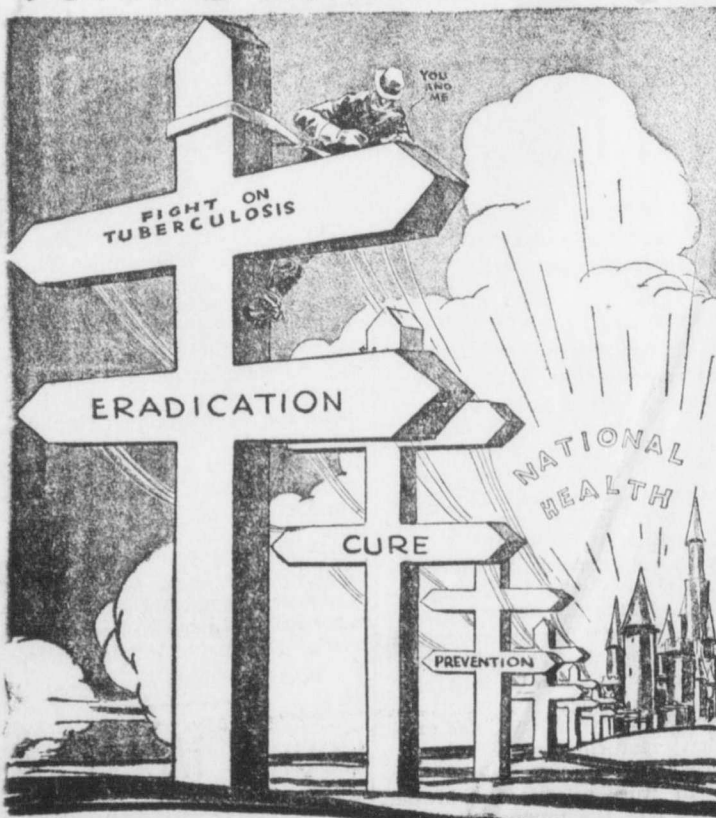

"Two schools at Palm Springs are named for pioneer women. They are the Frances S. Stevens and Nellie N. Coffman schools. Mrs. Stevens was vitally interested in the welfare of children and presented to the district four acres of land on which the school named for her is located. Her daughter, Mrs. Culver Nichols, is clerk of the school board. Mrs. Coffman, of course, is the "first lady" of Palm Springs and owner of the world-famous Desert Inn.

"The Desert Inn opened November 1 and the El Mirador will open November 8. The smaller hotels have been operating several weeks.

"The assessed valuation of Palm Springs is $6,500,000. The city tax rate of 15 cents per $100 is the lowest in the county.

"La Cita hotel on South Palm Canyon Drive is the place to eat this season. Such dinners! And breakfasts, too! . . . The new La Paz guest ranch is unique and worth a visit. The management uses a picture of Patricia Percival, popular Hemet equestrienne, in its advertising material. . . . One doesn't expect to find much of the garden variety of news down here, but it is a fact that a prisoner in the city jail set fire to his mattress the other night. And another fellow bit the chief of police on the thumb. . . . The chamber of commerce has placed an order for 150,000 folders printed in four colors. This is the kind of promotion that has made Palm Springs what it is today. . . . King C. Gillett, son of the late safety razor magnate, is operating a date market here. He grows the dates on his own property between Palm Springs and Indio. . . . Our own Nelson Dilworth addressed the Palm Springs Lions club last week. He expressed the hope that Governor Olson may be able to work things out for the permanent benefit of California. But he didn't offer to give the governor any help. Neither did he mention his proposed state bicycle license tax."

PUTTING THE LINE THROUGH

FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS, buy Christmas Seals! The Palm Springs branch of the Tuberculosis Association will conduct its annual seal sale campaign from Thanksgiving to Christmas. Of the money raised from Christmas Seals sold in Palm Springs, 25% will be spent locally and the other 75% will be used to fight the dread disease in the county, state and nationally. Seals will be sent out in envelopes and will also be sold at a table in the postoffice. BUY TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION CHRISTMAS SEALS AND STAMP OUT THIS MENACE.

THANKSGIVING DAY (S)

Out of the hubbub over America's two Thanksgiving Days for 1939 has come spontaneous publicity for the spirit of Democracy that should prove a tonic to all men in the world who believe in individual freedom of action and speech. Most of the news is humor typically American. With its tongue in its cheek, the town of Plymouth, where the first Thanksgiving Day was held, invited President Roosevelt to be its guest at dinner November 30. And with his tongue in his cheek, the President, who has proclaimed November 23 for the Day, politely sent his "regrets" because he has "a previous engagement"! The 48 States are evenly divided. Twenty-three, including California, have decided on the earlier date. Twenty-three have decided on the traditional last Thursday. The remaining two, Texas and Colorado, have accepted both dates. Such a coincidence of exactly even division makes one suspect that all the governors got together to have some fun. And only chuckles were evoked by the widely-printed gag:

"Thirty days hath September,
April, June and November;
All the rest have thirty-one—
Until we hear from Washington!"

Lucky America! The tolerance, the independence, the mutual good-will behind such humor bespeaks the solid, enduring values of the American way of life more eloquently than a library of learned exposition. Mr. Roosevelt would not be far amiss if, at the last moment, he proclaimed both days as official in Washington's eyes. This country has reason to be thankful enough to fill two days of celebration!

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW

California's bitter experience in the recent "Ham and Eggs" special election should start a move going immediately to tighten up the regulations under which an initiative measure can be forced through to a special election.

With the possible exception of the notorious recall privilege, the ability of any pressure group to force a costly special election through an initiative petition is one of the worst provisions in our laws. And there is a great doubt as to whether the initiative should be in our laws in any form. What good is representative government, with 120 representatives at Sacramento in the legislature, if the people have the right to force an issue upon a state? The intent of the initiative was good; its operation smells to high heaven. Each election the people of California must struggle through a tidal wave of initiatives on the ballot, each covering a subject wholly within the sphere of the legislature to decide.

Let us now, before the memory of this special election dims, start the movement with our legislators to have some change in this initiative machinery. It is probable an outright repeal move would raise the charge of "taking away the people's rights," which, of course, would be so much "baloney". But if persons wishing to support an initiative measure would be compelled to go to an announced place and there sign the petitions, much of the evil of this system would be eliminated. The paid professional signature-getter, who is paid ten cents a name for signers of petitions, is one of the costliest when it is remembered this special election costs the state about a million dollars, plus great outlays of money and effort by the state's population.

Surely, to have true representative American government we must not force ourselves to be subjected to the whims of a few professional promoters who can glean a comfortable fortune by exploiting this or that proposition in California.

There must be a change in this provision of California law. If we are to have government by initiative, let's abolish the legislature and everybody write the laws. If we are to have representative government, let's leave the work of making laws to the legislature, with the right of referendum to the people. Both systems cannot live amicably under one roof.

THAT CRAZY MOON!

Dr. Will Durant, erudite author-philosopher, this week unburdened himself of a gloomy prediction that progress is killing romance. Quote he: "With industrialization of society, the family is no longer a unit of economic production. The wife is no longer a useful partner. She is virtually a luxury." With the passing of the era wherein most wives spun and wove their own cloth, hand-churned their own butter, and all that, the good Dr. Durant sees the decline of marriage along with the decline of economic necessity for a wife.

That seems very logical (philosophers are always logical). But once a poet (poets are never logical) remarked that if he could write a nation's songs he wouldn't care who made its laws, customs or conditions. And, while Dr. Durant was issuing his profound statement, a late song hit was, so to speak, drowning him out. It was entitled "Oh, You Crazy Moon!" The song writer's idea is that young people just fall in love, and are "crazy" about one another, and are deliriously happy, and don't know why—and just blame it on the moon. There's no logic in that. Yet the ages bear out the song writer. Philosophers come and philosophers go, while—as all poets and young lovers know—that crazy moon goes on forever. Why? Only the little guy with the bow and arrow knows, and he'll never explain it—because he isn't a logical philosopher. He's a song writer, too!

COUNCIL HOLDS....

property in question to be business property.

Mayor Boyd stated that he realizes the difference between zoning and deed restrictions.

Turonnet pointed out that the assessed valuation of his land is five times as great as when he bought it. The county assesses the property as business frontage, yet he does not have the right to use it for business, he explained.

Talking to the press after the hearing the Mayor explained the steps that will now be taken before the proposed ordinance goes into effect. The various requests for change of zone that have been made during the hearing will be referred to the planning commission for consideration. The council, when it meets next Monday morning, will refer the material of the hearing to the planning commission. The ordinance will be revamped where and if it is considered the requests are justifiable and will then be returned to the council to be introduced to that body probably at the regular monthly meeting for December. (It is possible that it might be introduced to the council for the first reading on Wednesday, Nov. 29, but this is considered doubtful.) It can then be voted on by the council one week after the first reading; and if passed, would become effective 30 days after being passed.

BARKS..

By HAROLD BARKOW

... Three natural wonders of this area little known even to many residents of the village are "The Witch of Tahquitz," "Lincoln's Profile" and "The Angel." "The Witch of Tahquitz," which is the likeness of a huge black witch on the side of the mountain, can best be seen in the early morning before eight o'clock from Palm Canyon Drive in the vicinity of Del Tahquitz Hotel. The phenomenon is caused by the shadows in deep Tahquitz Canyon. "Lincoln's Profile," and a fine likeness it is, can be seen from in front of the Safeway Store. It is at the top of a ridge of the foothills. "The Angel," the finest of the three, can be seen up on the side of Mt. San Jacinto from U. S. Highway 99 in the vicinity of Garnet. "The Angel" is white, as is proper, with outstretched wings.

... And speaking of the natural wonders of this area leads us to conjecture that in spite of all the man-made attractions here to lure visitors to Palm Springs it is still primarily the peace, the beauty, the mystery and the marvelous winter climate of the desert that attracts the majority of our winter guests.

... And along this train of thought let us state that we believe that the Palm Springs Desert Museum answers a decided educational and recreational need. We feel that it would be a great mistake to let the Desert Museum die this season as is now contemplated. The museum during seasons past has taught winter visitors to love and understand the desert—and to know the desert is to want to return again and again to Palm Springs.

... We oft times wonder why Fritz Kuhn, Harry Bridges, Earl Browder and men of that ilk don't get out of this country if they are so dissatisfied with our American democratic form of government. If they are sold on Communism, why don't they move to Russia; or if they believe Nazism is so perfect, why don't they transfer their residence to Germany. It would be much easier for them just to move to another land than to tackle the big job of "converting" the United States, and we certainly can get along well without them.

... Parking on Palm Canyon Drive in the down-town area is still a problem. Chief of Police Bispham states that business people are at fault and that if store owners and clerks would park their cars on side streets, it would relieve the congestion. It is mostly the business people, according to local police, who leave their cars parked all day long on Palm Canyon Drive.

... Mrs. Jack Hill, A. J. M. Gardner, Mrs. Francis Crocker, Mrs. Raymond Cree, Dr. Henry Hoagland and Mrs. Horace Penery will conduct the local Christmas Seal drive of the Tuberculosis Association this season. The Christmas Seal sale starts Thanksgiving. These people are giving unselfishly of their time and money for this worthwhile cause and deserve the support of the village. ... If the first Village of Palm Springs Annual Amateur Tennis Tournament is a success, and every indication is that it will be, it is due largely to the fine work of Frank Pershing, chairman of the tournament committee. Chairman Pershing has worked long and hard making arrangements for the tournament. Of course, he has been assisted by such noted "work horses" as Mayor Philip Boyd, Morris Richardson, and others.

... The heavy early fall rains have resulted in puncture vines sprouting in profusion all over town. If these vines are not eradicated before they go to seed, the pest will be ever more of a serious problem next year, causing many punctured bicycle tires and bothering "barefooters" no end. The city is eradicating the pest on all public property, spraying the vines with oil. It would seem to us that it is the civic duty of every property owner to cooperate with the city to the extent of removing the puncture vine from their own property. Hoeing the vines, raking them into piles and burning them is successful if accomplished before the vines drop their seeds.

... Mrs. Charles N. Bosworth and her Woman's Club committee have performed a very worthwhile service to their community in getting out such big votes in the two recent elections. The ladies are directly responsible for Palm Springs winning its freedom from the Banning Union High School district. The district split was defeated at Banning 411 votes to 246; but in Palm Springs the vote was "yes" 1130, "no" 19, thus offsetting the defeat handed the issue at the pass city. Palm Springs owes Mrs. Bosworth and her hard-working committee a debt of gratitude.

... Thanksgiving Day is just around the corner, when each of us should pause for a moment to consider what we have to be thankful for. We, as members of the fourth estate, thank God that we live in the United States of America where freedom of the press and of speech is still a reality and where an editor can still criticize the heads of the govern-

Community Church and the Our Lady of Solitude Roman Catholic church.

What is now known as the Community church was located in early days on Palm Canyon Drive (then called Main street) and Arenas Road. It was a much loved landmark and holds very tender associations for many.

The lot was the gift of the late Dr. George W. Murray, always a benefactor of our community. The first edifice was erected by Mr. Crichtlow in loving memory of his wife, who passed away here.

"Provisions in the deed ordered that should ever the property be sold the entire proceeds should be used to build a new church. In 1935 this was done. The old property was sold to Mrs. Julia Carnell, for the sum of $40,000. The property on the corner of Baristo and Cahuilla was purchased, including the building now used as the manse, and the present structure erected. The cornerstone bears the date "1935."

The records show the first meeting of the board of trustees was held in the home of Mr. Carl Lykken, May 14, 1917. Those present were Rev. John MacPhie, C. E. Bunker, Jr., Carl Lykken and Miss Cornelia White.

Already the congregation, and especially the Sunday school has outgrown the building, and serious thought is being given as to future provision for the rapidly increasing number of children who look toward the Community church for religious instruction.

I see a splendid future before Palm Springs. These mountains, these dashing mountain streams, these desert flowers, these emerald dawns and sunsets, this unrivaled climate, the midnight constellations of the heavens, all conspire to make Palm Springs for all time a mecca for those seeking rest, recuperation, beauty, recreation and freedom from the maddening throng of great cities.

We expect to make our permanent home in Palm Springs and shall exercise our every endeavor to promote her welfare—to preserve the old faith, the old standards of morality, the old loyalties to Our Country, our Flag, and to the Bible and God.

Nightball Game Tonight, Decide League Champs

A large crowd is expected to assemble at the Field club tonight, Friday, when the Palm Springs Builders Supply "Lumberjacks" tangle with the Gardeners in a softball battle that will decide the champions of the local commercial nightball league that ended only recently.

When the league ended about two weeks ago, the Gardeners and the "Lumberjacks" were tied for top honors. The two teams decided to settle the issue with a play-off for the championship tonight. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

NEW LOCAL NIGHTBALL SCHEDULE

Five teams are represented in the new Palm Springs Nightball League. Games will be played on the Field Club diamond two nights a week—Mondays and Fridays. All games start at 8:15 sharp.

The Schedule

Nov. 17—Builders Supply vs. Gardeners.
Nov. 20—Golf Course vs. Nite Spot.
Nov. 24—Gardeners vs. Golf Course.
Nov. 27—Poultry Mkt. vs. Builders Supply.
Dec. 1—Golf Course vs. Poultry Mkt.
Dec. 4—Nite Spot vs. Gardeners.
Dec. 8—Nite Spot vs. Poultry Market.
Dec. 11—Golf Course vs. Builders Supply.
Nov. 15—Poultry Mkt. vs. Gardeners.
Nov. 18—Builders Supply vs. Nite Spot.

To make knowledge valuable, you must have the cheerfulness of wisdom. Goodness smiles to the last.—Emerson.

Girls Whip Lumberjacks

"They came, they whipped us, AND HOW!" And the most talked-about sporting event held in Palm Springs in recent years finally came to a climax about 4:30 last Sunday afternoon when Milt Hicks, manager of the local "Lumberjacks," hit a screaming drive to third base. It looked like a sure hit; but, alas, there stood one of California's greatest girl softball players in the person of Norma Stonebraker, who came up with the ball and whipped across a perfect throw to first to retire the side for the final out of the game.

Amid the cheers from the happy and colorful multitude at the Field club the girls strutted from the field like "pouting" pigeons and into a huddle to give three cheers for the vanquished "he men." And into the archives for posterity goes the results of a well earned victory for these amazing female athletes.

To single out outstanding players in this aggregation of girl stars would be an injustice to the rest, for every one was a finished ball player and was well coached in every department of the game. Their heads-up play, spirit and good sportsmanship speaks for itself. They really know how to play ball!

In going down to defeat the Builders Supply "Lumberjacks" were outplayed and outsmarted by these "Amazons," and the final answer to the girls' victory was their thoroughly coached and well trained ball team.

All Palm Springs joins in thanking Marshall-Clampett, Los Angeles distributors for De Soto automobiles and sponsors of this fine ball club, for making it possible for such an attraction to be staged here. What say you to some more of these interesting activities?

Orchids to Al Berger, famous baseball announcer, who described the game, play by play, over the public address system. His knowledge of each play was really masterful and his humorous quips kept the crowd in an uproar. "Come back again Al, we certainly enjoyed you!"

In looking around Sunday one could see many celebrities mingled in the crowd, enjoying every minute of what was going on before them. And amazed they were, as was every one else, at the ability of the girl softballers.

All in all, it was one of the most interesting and colorful sporting events held here in some time. Let's have some more!

Stoefen to Play In Tennis Matches At Redlands

Tickets are now on sale for the all-star tennis show at Redlands Saturday night, which will feature Bill Tilden, Fred Perry, Les Stoefen and Bruce Barnes.

Feature event of the evening will match Perry against Tilden. Tilden and Perry both produce two of the soundest stroking games in the tennis world and both are spectacular players. Both have held Wimbledon and United States championships and both have played for their respective countries in the Davis Cup matches.

Les Stoefen meets Bruce Barnes in the preliminary card. Stoefen was national doubles champion, and Barnes has proved one of the most steady players in professional ranks. Final wind-up will place Tilden and Stoefen against Barnes and Perry.

According to Bob Allen, manager of the special match, a group of motion picture celebrities from Palm Springs plans to attend the show. Another group comprising members of the Redlands Country Club will also attend.

The matches which are under the auspices of the University of Redlands athletic department will be played in the University of Redlands gymnasium commencing at 8 p. m.

BOOKS GIVEN TO LIBRARY

The Welwood Murray Memorial Library received a donation of 178 fine books this week from Harrison Leussler of San Francisco.

Twenty-five of these books are fiction, 38 juvenile and the remaining number are non-fiction.

doings. The new nightball league was formed the past week and is composed of five teams. Name—Builders Supply "Lumberjacks," Nite Spot Cafe, Desert Golf Course, Frank's Poultry Market and the "Gardeners."

Games will be played only two nights a week—on Mondays and Fridays, games starting at 8:15. A schedule for the public's benefit will be posted in various places in town in the near future.

Next Monday night will see the Nite Spot opposing the Desert Golf Course in the first game of the week. So get yourself set for some more interesting nightball games. Thank you.

Bowling Them Over In Palm Springs

NEWS OF THE PALM SPRINGS BOWLING ACADEMY

By HARVEY BARDO

Classic League

Another journey to Pomona, through the rain and fog, last week to bowl in the Wednesday classic.

With high hopes we left and came back, lucky to break even, every one of us willing to shoot high scores, but about the only one able to hit his hat being John Miller, who hit for 567. This week Redlands comes to the Springs, telling us they are going to take the local boys to the cleaners. Well, for a change we are on our home drives and we shall see how we go. We promise to let you know the results in next week's column.

Sunday's Doubles

The doubles events every Sunday are turning out "O.K." with a large group of bowlers on hand and some very excellent scores being rolled. Much credit must go to courageous "Cappy Lucky," who, having only one leg, paired up with Dr. Nourie, our most capable bowler, to win the first prize.

Second shift found "old reliable" Mary Sales and John Miller paired up, and they proceeded to take home the money by the very scant margin of eight pins.

Next Sunday we have another doubles event; hope to see a good crowd out again.

Immediately after the doubles we started on the "pot" games. This is where the boys "really go to town." It was nothing to see 200 get "stuck" for games in this match. McCutcheon rolled 256, "Bud" Hobbs cracked in a 254, Dr. Nourie 236, and many other very nice scores were turned in.

Gold Medal Winners

"Mac" McCutcheon, with his 269 game, took home a gold medal this week. "Bud" Hobbs, with a 256, took home another. This youngster is coming along nicely. Old reliable "Bill" Seaton, not to be outdone by anyone, shot a very nice game of 259 that could have been much more with any breaks at all.

Eighty-seven 200 Games

There have been so many 200 games rolled this week that we won't have room to give you individual names, there being 87 in all.

Palm Springs Juniors

This promising young team has done very well so far. They tackled the Redlands team here Sunday and beat them unmercifully, rolling a team total of 2800 for three games. Lafferty was high with 615, then followed closely Ramstad with 583, Faubion 540, Hobbs 527, Bevil 514. Nice going; keep it up!

Old Guard Stirred Up

Some of the veteran bowlers of Palm Springs say there are rumors that some of the younger bowlers are getting rather "chesty" about their scores and want to take on the old "vets." Here is the answer the "vets" gave to me: To whom it may concern: We will roll the juniors or any other picked team that wishes to bowl, for whatever they want to roll. They may have the choice of alleys, and say when.

Looks like the "oldsters" have their dander up.

Ladies' League

Boy, oh boy! What colors, what girls, what bowling. You should have seen the Thrifty 5 & 10 girls in their new red outfits here on Monday night. Desert Garden Date Shop also had their new "pretties" on this week. I don't know, but Mondays have kind of got me.

Thrifty 5 & 10 took 3 points from Indian Store, Manuel the Tailor took 4 points from Desert Grill; Village togery took 4 points from the Desert Garden Date Shop.

Marjorie Morris had high average and high single game—203 for the single game, 526 for the series and an average of 175. Very nice bowling, Marjorie.

The Manuel the Tailor team had a three-game total of 2256. Desert Grill team totaled 2089, Thrifty 5 & 10 totaled 2123, Indian Store 2108, Desert Date Shop 1930, Village Togery 2150. This gives you an idea of how close these teams are running.

Weekly Merchandise Winners

Ladies League—High average, Marjorie Morris, 2 meals, Claridge's Grill; high single game, Charlene Ferguson, 187, case of Sparketta; 375 score, Violet Trout, manicure and wave, Helen's Beauty Shop; 425 score, Beth Stebbins, carton Coca Cola; most splits, Ann Portnoy, pastry from Peter Pan Pastry Shop; 500 score, Gladys Murray, 2 meals at Claridge's; 465 score, "Skipper" Partridge, box cookies, Loose Wiles Co.; 400 score, Janice Bibb, 5 free games, Bowling Academy.

Men's Bowling League

Tuesday night brought out the usual very large crowd of bowlers and some very good scores. Some of the dark horses came through this week. Fire Chief

Bill Leonasio got "hot," shooting a very nice single game of 234 and high three-game series of 656. Buddy Hobbs shot 233, and Valley Laundry team shot 958 for high team series.

Fire Department 1 point, Chapman-Haas 3 points; DeVine's Market, 1 point, Indio, 3 points; Valley Laundry took 4 points over Fuller's Cafe; Sporting Goods and Plaza Pharmacy split even, 2 points each; Royal Palms took 3 points from Sale's Market.

Team Standings

Team	W	L
Valley Laundry	17	7
Royal Palms	16	8
Sporting Goods	12	12
Sale's Plaza Market	11	13
Fire Department	11	13
DeVine's Market	11	13
Fuller's Cafe	10	14
Chapman-Haas	10	14
Indio	8	16

Merchandise Winners

Most splits, Dick Haas, car wash, Earl Hough's Associated Station; 545 score, Rex Reynolds, carton Coca Cola; 410 score, J. Jacobson, suit pressed, California Laundry; 393 score, M. Williams, 2 meals, Plaza Pharmacy; second high single game, K. Rose, 2 meals, Desert Grill; 510 score, Gephert, bottle wine, Plaza Delicatessen; second high average, B. Bevil, basket fruit, DeVine's Market.

"Big Bill" Tilden To Be at Racquet Club

Many a Hollywood luminary graced the Racquet Club courts this week, while many a spectator thrilled to some fine tennis. Vic Orsatti in a grudge match against Paul Lukas, lost two sets to the chagrin of his backers and the delight of the Lukas supporters, who enjoyed free drinks at the expense of Mr. Orsatti. Undaunted, Orsatti has challenged Lukas to a re-match Saturday, which should prove an interesting battle.

Franchot Tone and Jim Bryant have been daily combatants, with Paulette Goddard an enthusiastic onlooker.

Saturday, Harry Cohn and Lester Stoefen challenged all comers and finally teamed up against Vic Orsatti and Ralph Bellamy. The Cohn-Stoefen combine downed their opponents in straight sets, and subsequently played Gilbert Roland and Paul Lukas, again emerging victorious.

Sunday found Ruth Stoefen and Charlie Butterworth apposing Dorothy Earl and John McLean in a heated match that went 22-22 and was finally called off on account of darkness.

Lester Stoefen, tennis professional, has arranged to have "Big Bill" Tilden join the tennis festivities over the week-end. Saturday's tennis entertainment for the guests will feature Tilden in an exhibition against Lester Stoefen.

Added interest has been aroused over the organization of Paul Lukas' "Desert Rats" and Gil Roland's "Cactus Cats." The two captains have been busy all week trying to line up the club's best tennis players in order that every week-end there will be heated matches with good competition.

Thus the Roland-Lukas feud has taken on a new aspect and inter-club rivalry has hit a new high. Members are taking a keen interest in this competition and rumor has it that the Cactus Cats are slight betting favorites. Head Referee Les Stoefen, has been going around all week with a wise grin, but refuses to divulge the losers' penalty until just before the play-off Saturday.

Barney Johnson Almost Loses Imported Canine

Last week there was great sorrow in the Barney Johnson home here, but this week the gloom was dispelled. The reason—"Patches," the Johnson's imported pedigree English setter, was seriously ill in a Los Angeles dog hospital, where he underwent an operation last week.

Monday Mr. and Mrs. Johnson received word that the dog was recovering rapidly and that it could be brought home the latter part of the week. Patches was suffering from peritonitis.

"Patches" is a very fine specimen of English setter and will be exhibited in the Palm Springs Annual Dog Show this season. When he was the lowest, Barney phoned Los Angeles several times a day to learn of his pet's condition.

Woman's Club Moves Into New $12,000 Home

Some sort of an all-time record for rapid progress has been achieved by the ladies of the Palm Springs Woman's Club under the capable leadership of their first president, Mrs. Warren Pinney, for next Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 21, less than one year after they were first organized, they will move 170 strong into their luxurious, new $12,000 club house on Baristo Road.

Many Donate

Many prominent local ladies co-operated in making possible the beautiful new clubhouse. Mrs. Austin G. McManus started the ball rolling last December when she graciously offered to donate a choice building site for a clubhouse in exclusive Tahquitz Park, the site whereon the structure now stands. Mrs. Thos. A. O'Donnell and Mrs. Herbert Carpenter added impetus to the movement for a clubhouse with donations of $1000 each to the building fund. John Porter Clark, prominent local architect, offered to design the building for the ladies.

Wilson & Sorum Build

Awarding of the contract to Wilson & Sorum for the new clubhouse Monday, April 17, at the final meeting of last season of the Palm Springs Woman's Club marked a new high in achievement for this new organization. In less than five months after organizing this club had a paid-up membership of 178, a building site, a clubhouse on which work had been started, and money in the bank.

Under the most capable leadership of Mrs. Warren Pinney, the club had mobilized the interest and energies of a large group of Palm Springs residents and winter visitors.

First discussion of the formation of a woman's club here was held December 5, 1938, when Mrs. Pinney was hostess to some 60 women at luncheon at El Mirador Hotel. Several state and county officers were present at that time, and so great was the interest that the women were invited to meet the following Monday at luncheon at the Desert Inn as guests of Mrs. Nellie N. Coffman.

Mrs. Coffman Honored

At that time formal organization was effected, and officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. Nellie Coffman; executive president, Mrs. Warren Pinney; vice-president, Mrs. George B. Roberson; Mrs. Bacon L. Clifton, recording secretary; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Henry S. Reid; treasurer, Mrs. John Williams; auditor, Mrs. H. H. Quackenbush; chairman house committee, Mrs. Robert Ransom, board member, Mrs. Alvah Hicks.

At this meeting Mrs. Austin G. McManus offered a choice of building lots as a site for a clubhouse, and three large lots on Baristo Road, south of the Community church, were selected by a committee from the club.

Building Fund Started

With the site for the clubhouse came the desire for a building, and funds were raised by members of the organization and winter residents as well. Proceeds from two performances of the Desert Inn employees' "mellodrammer," "He Done Right by Our Nell," netted $500 to the building fund. Other most generous gifts were promises of $1,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Donnell and an equal sum from Mrs. Herbert Carpenter.

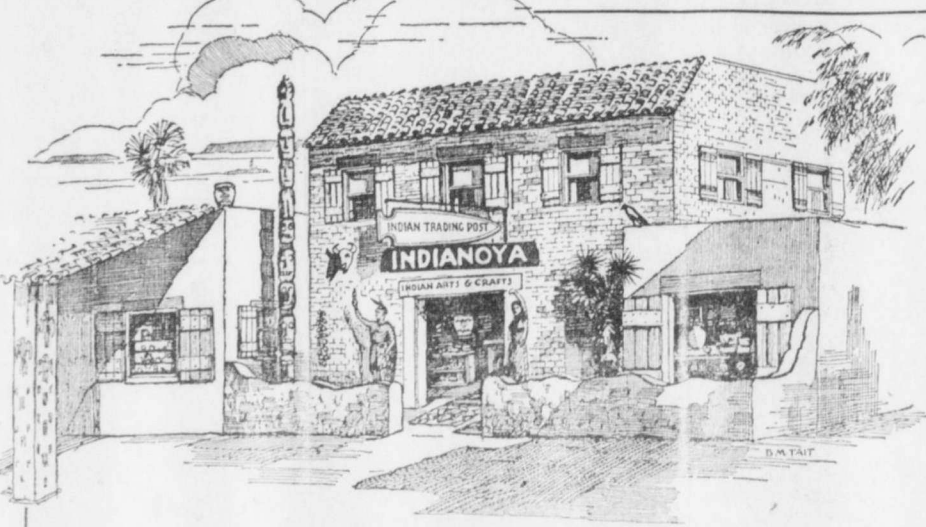

John Porter Clark donated his services as architect, and plans for the building were heartily approved.

Sponsor Girl Scouts

During last season the Woman's Club became sponsors of the Girl Scout movement in Palm Springs, and members have worked hard for other cultural projects.

Re-Elect All Officers

Woman's Club In New Home

last March 20, when reports from officers and department chairmen were read.

After remaining dormant all summer, the Woman's Club resumed its meetings again this fall the first week in October. During the past the ladies have held their meetings in the social hall at the Community church, but from now on they will meet in their new hall.

The new clubhouse into which the Woman's Club will move next week is of the graceful style of architecture peculiar particularly to Palm Springs—low, rambling, with long, flowing, graceful lines. It is the type of design that has been developed locally and might best be called a Palm Springs style of architecture. The design of the building has been made to be consistent with the surroundings of the site.

Large Auditorium

The new club faces west at the corner of Baristo Road and Ca-huilla. It comprises a large auditorium with a seating capacity of 200 and a large stage, a lounge opening onto a lovely sun-filled patio on the south, a well-equipped kitchen, dressing rooms, women's powder room and the walled court with outdoor stage.

The auditorium is so arranged that it is suitable for dances and may also be used as a dining room. Storage space has been provided under the large stage where the auditorium chairs can be stored when a dance is to be given. The stage is well lighted for plays and other programs. The building is so designed that the capacity of the auditorium can be conveniently enlarged when the time comes that such an expansion is necessary.

The auditorium has been designed for proper acoustical qualities. Forced-air heating equipment has been installed in the building, which can be used in warm weather as a forced-air cooling system.

Mrs. O'Donnell Helps

Mrs. Thos. A. O'Donnell is chairman of the building committee, which handled all the details appertaining to the construction of the new clubhouse. They conferred with Architect John Porter Clark and visited many Woman's Club halls throughout Southern California. Serving with her on the building committee are Mrs. Warren Pinney, Mrs. Philip Boyd, Mrs. J. J. Kocher, Mrs. Harold Hicks, Mrs. Austin G. McManus and Mrs. L. S. De Graff.

Mrs. Katherine Bashford, prominent Los Angeles landscape architect, donated the landscaping plan of the clubhouse grounds to the Woman's Club. A landscape committee of the club is now working with landscape gardener, Millard R. Wright of Palm Springs, who is doing the landscape work.

Architect John Porter Clark donated his services to the Woman's Club, and the majority of the contractors who worked on the clubhouse did the work almost at cost in order that the ladies might have the building they wanted.

MRS. LESSING INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Bruno Lessing, wife of the famous columnist, a guest at El Mirador Hotel, suffered a severe injury to the shoulder early this week when she slipped and fell.

Many X-rays revealed an injury more severe than it was at first thought. She is doing very well, however, and is under the care of Dr. Henry S. Reid.

DESERT INN GUEST FALLS FROM BICYCLE

Mrs. Birch Green, a guest at the Desert Inn, was painfully injured on Sunday when she fell from a bicycle. She was treated by Dr. Henry S. Reid. X-rays were taken of her elbow, but no fractures or serious injuries were found.

Don't be stubborn. When Nature produced the mule, she realized her mistake and would not allow it to reproduce its kind.

Club Meets Next Week in New Club House

Opening of the Palm Springs Woman's Club house Tuesday afternoon, November 21, will be an event of great interest throughout the village, for the membership of this recently organized civic group includes a cross section of the entire population.

Mayor Philip L. Boyd of Palm Springs will be the speaker of the afternoon, and his talk is anticipated with much interest by the club membership. Mayor Boyd has been a resident of Palm Springs since the days before what is now a city could hardly qualify as a village, and his foresight has done much to bring Palm Springs to its position now as a city with all the advantages of a small informal village.

Music for the afternoon will be provided by the Hazel Schert-zinger Harp quintette, a musical organization of much success. Altogether, the program promises unusual pleasure. Tea will be served at the close of the afternoon, and the club house will be open for inspection.

As usual, the club program will be open to the public upon payment of a $1.10 fee. The club is always glad to have interested "paying guests" at all programs.

With the opening of the club house next week the activities of the building committee, under the capable direction of Mrs. Thomas A. O'Donnell, will come to a close, and the work of the furnishings and landscaping committees will begin.

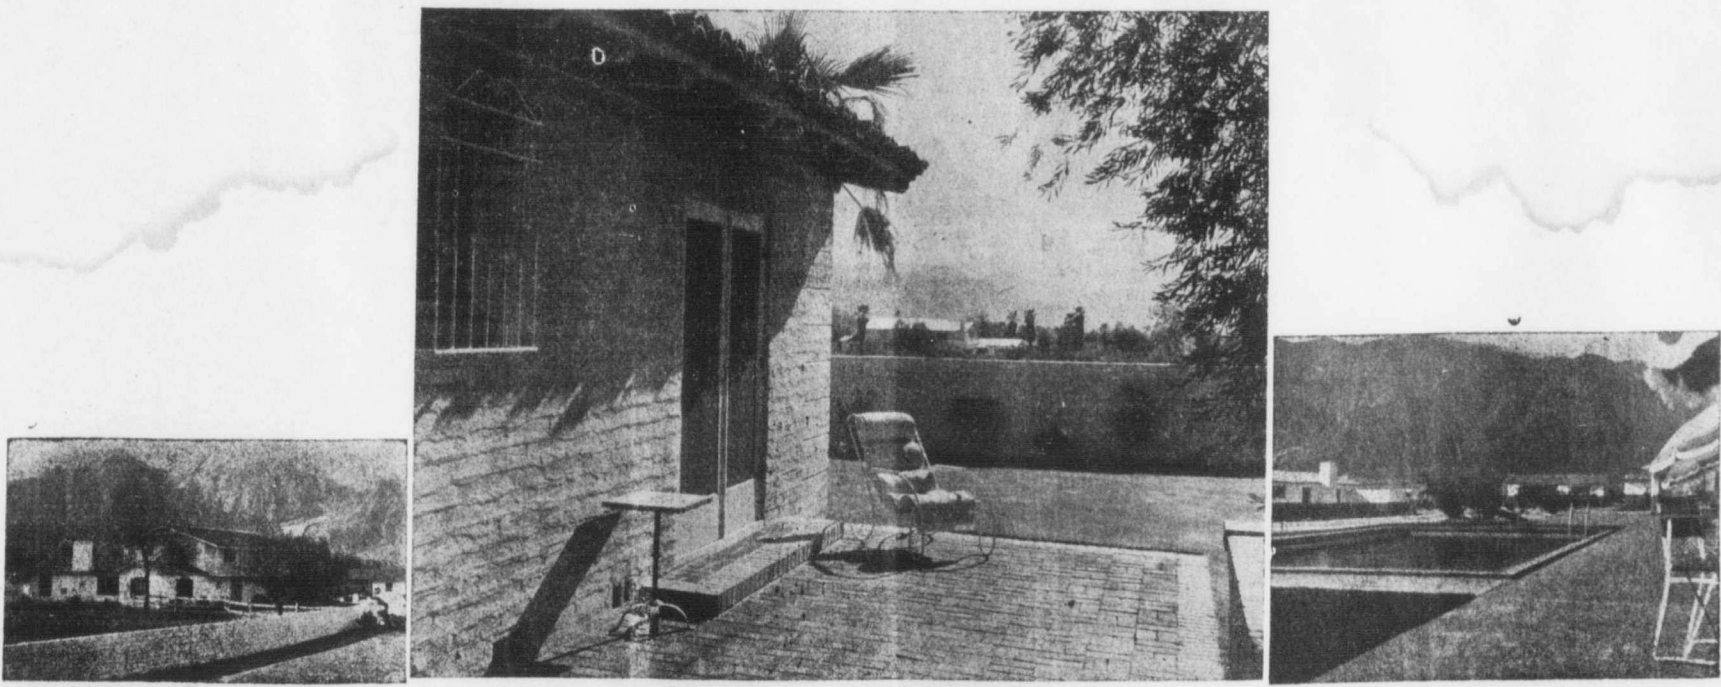

Serving with Mrs. O'Donnell have been Mrs. Philip Boyd, Mrs. Harold Hicks, Mrs. J. J. Kocher, Mrs. Austin McManus, Mrs. Warren Pinney and Mrs. L. A. De-Graff.

Mrs. Raymond Wilson heads the furnishings committee, and with her are Mrs. Grace Hull, Mrs. John Forline, Mrs. Irving Snyder, Mrs. Spencer Kellogg, Jr., Mrs. Earl Gibbs, Mrs. Henry Hoagland, Mrs. George Roberson and Mrs. Charles T. Baisley.

Planting will be done in accordance with a landscape plan worked out by a committee headed by Mrs. Harry Bedford-Jones, working with Miss Katherine Bashford, noted landscape architect. Serving with Mrs. Bedford-Jones are Mrs. Austin McManus, Mrs. Frank Pershing, Mrs. R. F. Outcault, Mrs. Hal Forest, Mrs. Mrs. Katherine Romer, Mrs. Karl Kumpe and Mrs. Arch Wilson.

The building, which was designed by John Porter Clark, stands upon a site given to the club by Mrs. Austin McManus.

Red Cross Roll Call Now on

The annual drive for Red Cross members is now on under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ted Griffith with Mr. Horace Pendery roll call chairman.

This year's Red Cross headquarters are in the McManus Realty building at 315 N. Palm Canyon drive and Mr. and Mrs. McManus have so generously offered the use of this building for sewing headquarters until their new tenant takes possession. This kindly and philanthropic gesture on the part of the McManuses is deeply appreciated by the local chapter.

Among the Red Cross workers are: the chairman, Mrs. Griffith, Mr. Horace Pendery, the Mesdames Newton Hotchkiss, Harold Hicks, Merrill Crockett, Charles N. Bosworth, H. Bedford-Jones, Bill Gargan, John Williams, Barney Hinkle, Ernie Fors, James B. Oliver, Homer Jenkins, Jack Kann, Gordon Nicholson and Roberta Seaton.

El Mirador's List....

dered by flowers, shrubs and trees. It is hard for guests, sitting in this luxurious garden of the sun, gazing at the panorama of mountain scenery, to visualize the acres of cactus and mesquite that were once the hotel site.

Among the unequalled attractions of the desert are the flowers. For the first time since 1912, they are blooming this year in the fall due to the extended balmy season and at present the sands are cloaked in purple blossoms of the verberna.

Visitors to El Mirador during the past 12 years read like the world's "Who's Who." From the four corners they have come to rest and play. Among the notables who have vacationed at El Mirador are Professor and Mrs. Albert Einstein, great scientist; Lord Beaverbrook, ranking sportsman and newspaper leader of England; Governor and Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman of New York; Jean and A. Picard, stratosphere flyers; "Happy" Chandler, former governor of Kentucky and now United States Senator; Freedom Gosden and Charles Correll, more generally known as Amos and Andy; John Hays Hammond, famous engineer; Clarence E. Groesbeck, president of Electric Bond and Share Co.; Mr. Robert W. Woodruff, president of Coca Cola company, and Mrs. Woodruff; Rev. John F. O'Hara, president of Notre Dame University; Mr. D. F. Bull, president Cream of Wheat Co., and Mrs. Bull; Roy Howard, president Scripps-Howard newspapers, and Mrs. Howard; Mr. Harold Stanley, president Morgan-Stanley Co.; Mr. Mathew J. Carney, vice president Union Carbide Co., and Mrs. Carney; General C. B. Blethen, publisher Seattle Times and Mrs. Blethen; and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and his mother, Mrs. Margaret Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Akin, president Laclede Steel Co., John J. Raskob, Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, the Maharaja of Indore, Princess Chetachazzini of India, Lord and Lady Montague, Viscount Castle-rose of Kilarney, Ireland, and many others.

El Mirador is also the vacation resort of many stars and notables of the motion picture industry. Myrna Loy, Joan Bennett, Marlene Dietrich, Mr. and Mrs. Henry King, Cary Grant, Tyrone Power, Olivia de Havilland, Joan Fontaine, Brian Aherne, Lili Damita, Luise Rainer, Errol Flynn, Pola Negri and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dix are among those who have been guests at El Mirador.

Sports at El Mirador are famous. Picnics in palm-fringed canyons, steak fries by the light of a desert moon, horseback rides at dawn with breakfast alongside a picturesque stream and bicycle trips down sagebrush lined roads are all part of the social program. A note of informality prevails at all these gatherings which makes for a spirit of good fellowship that is part of the code of the desert.

Palm Springs attracts many events. During the year there are horse shows, dog shows, polo games, tennis championships, swimming meets and other attractive sports events. The season is always climaxed by Circus Week, when the town turns "frontier" for seven days with the entire populace joining in the fun by donning costumes and participating in the exciting program. Celebrities come down to the desert town to act as judges in the Kangaroo Court, where "offenders" are tried and merrily punished according to their misdemeanors. El Mirador always schedules special lunches, dances and parties in connection with the Circus.

El Mirador's pool was originally surrounded by sand. Now it is in the heart of the garden, surrounded by a glass enclosed wall that makes sun-bathing a delight during the entire season. In early days, it wasn't heated, either. Now it is kept at daily tepid temperatures governed by special thermometers. The tiled pool is of regulation length and is considered among the finest pools in the country. It has been the scene of the annual A. A. U. Desert meets for the past 12 years and has been under the direction of Harold "Dutch" Smith, Olympic diving champion. Famous swimming and diving stars have thrilled spectators annually with their aquatic feats that are always recorded by the newsreels and syndicates and sent all over the world. A special pool has been set aside at one end for children so that parents need not worry over the little ones getting out into the deeper water. Smart cabanas also surround the pool and there is an outdoor grill and special bar for bathers who wish to dine out in the sun in informal attire.

El Mirador's first tennis court was cement and only one in number. Now the hotel boasts three championship courts with special surfaces. El Mirador's tennis club house adjoins and is the scene of many informal gatherings.

El Mirador, 1927-1928, is pictured above as it was thirteen years ago in its first development. The original hotel was composed of the main building, and two guest buildings, and one bungalow.

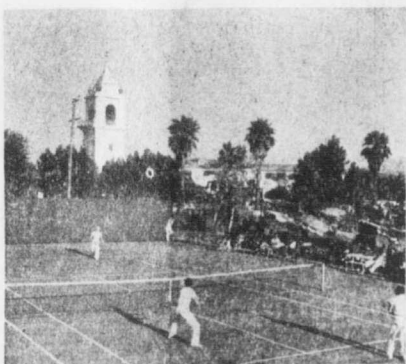

Typical bungalow at the El Mirador is shown above. It boasts three elaborate bed-sitting rooms, fireplace, dressing rooms, and spacious closets as well as private sun porches.

El Mirador's beautifully tiled and heated pool is shown as it is today. This is the scene of the annual Desert championships and aquatic events. Diving and races are part of the fun. An outdoor grill adjoins to enable bathers in informal attire to dine in the sun.

Beautiful El Mirador, 1939-1940. Today's ranking resort of the country. Noted for its beautiful gardens, fine trees and shrubbery. A vacation playland in the Garden of the Sun.

Championship tennis courts are part of the El Mirador scene. Famous stars compete in tournaments here and guests enjoy friendly games on specially surfaced courts. A club house adjoins for informal gatherings after the matches.

El Mirador, rear view, 1927-1928, shows another early photo of the hotel in its original days. The swimming pool was out in the desert, unprotected by any walls or shrubbery.

ings around the ping pong table and fireplace. World famous tennis stars come to Palm Springs for the annual Desert championship matches, and such players as Alice Marble, Ellsworth Vines, Donald Budge, Fred Perry and Gene Mako have competed on El Mirador courts.

A championship badminton court has also been built in the hotel grounds along with facilities for shuffleboard, quoits and croquet. Another healthful attraction is the sun cabinets. The sun's beneficial rays are absorbed through glass cabinets by the sun bathers.

Saturday night dinner-dances are always gay gatherings at the El Mirador. Special parties are arranged throughout the season, for the guests, such as costume fetes and barn dances. The spacious El Mirador lounge is the scene of daily tea parties and dinner concerts and games are enjoyed in the evenings.

The holidays are always happy times at El Mirador. Christmas is celebrated by carols and a tree in the lounge, New Year's Eve is marked by a gala dinner dance with special festivities at midnight and Easter sunrise services in Palm Springs draw spring vacationers from all over the world.

Throughout the past 12 years among El Mirador's additions have been the deluxe bungalows composed of bed-sitting rooms with fireplaces, dressing rooms and spacious closets. Originally there was only one small bungalow, now there are eight large ones with open porches that enable guests to enjoy secluded sun baths.

Exclusive shops are also located in El Mirador. I Magnin's have added a special addition on to the hotel's main building to make a beautiful store that is in its seventh year. Clara Porter, Inc., offers beautiful jewels, silver and glassware. The Desert Garden Date Shop has desert dates and sweets for El Mirador's patrons as well as a convenient book store. There is also a beauty parlor, barber shop, masseur's offices and a cigar stand at El Mirador. And the services of Dr. Henry Reid, M. D., and Dr. Bacon Clifton, D. D. S., are available day and night.

And so El Mirador looks forward to one of its largest seasons with the beginning of the year 1939-1940. Advance bookings indicate capacity business and a large influx of Eastern travelers due to the curtailment of European trips.

The impressive sun dial on El Mirador's tower, long a famous landmark in Palm Springs, beckons to vacationers all over the world to come to El Mirador this season.

MELTON THE BARBER

H. G. Melton is back at El Mirador Barber Shop again this season. An expert in cutting men's hair, he also specializes in hot towel, facials, scalp treatments, oil treatments and shampoos. He features a very fine woman specialist in men's manicures.

POPULAR GREYHOUND TRIPS TO BE CONTINUED

So popular have been Greyhound's circle bus trips around America that they will be continued until October 31, 1940, it has been announced by W. E. Travis, president of Pacific Greyhound Lines. Many thousands of people have taken these remarkable tours during the two World's Fairs. "Never before," said Mr. Travis, "has the traveling public been offered such a bargain. For only $69.95, the traveler can leave his home, visit San Francisco, travel over a choice of many scenic routes to New York, and then back home over an entirely different route, making a complete circle of the United States if he chooses. Or he can make the trip Eastward, going to New York first."

The possibilities of this trip are unlimited. The traveler can visit Southern California, the colorful Southwest, the beautiful Northwest and Evergreen Playground, the Rockies, Midwestern Cities, the old South, Florida, the Eastern Seaboard and of course, gay Manhattan which will be at its best for the next few months. Inexpensive side trips can be taken to many National Parks. In fact, Greyhound is showing America to Americans for the low price of $69.95.

NEWSPAPER MAN FROM HAWAII VISITS VILLAGE

Among the guests in Palm Springs this week were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Stearns of Honolulu, Hawaii, he an official of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, who were enjoying a short stay on the desert preparatory to sailing back to the Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Stearns have been visiting in the States since September, when they came to visit the Golden Gate International Exhibition.

EL MIRADOR SHOPS

EXCLUSIVE JEWELRY SHOP

Commencing their fifth season, Clara Porter, Ltd., at El Mirador, has a wide selection of fine jewels. Diamonds—set pieces—jewelry after the modern gold manner—watches—pearls. There's a beautiful square cut pink sapphire ring—a lovely pair of clips in diamonds and rubies that joins into a pin—strands of cultured pearls—a charm spray in gold with a tree full of "gadgets"—a star sapphire little finger ring—and sports watches with stop controls.

Porter's also have some lovely old English silver, direct from London. Authentic, they are pieces that will be a compliment to any home.

Dorothy Thorpe glassware is featured by the shop — perfume bottles, hors d'oeuvre trays, flower vases, individual glass set ups, cocktail, highball shakers. One lovely set is bands of sterling silver on glass.

The shop will also design special glassware for your home bar — your name, picture of your house, a desert design, or whatever you may wish etched on the glasses and pitchers.

A beautiful shop, with rare charm.

DATE SHOP

How do you like your dates? In brandy? With confections? Or with rum? The Desert Garden Date Shop in El Mirador has dates in every conceivable form. And they're all tree-ripened—not processed in any way. You may choose Khadrawis, Saidis or Deglet Noors. Date confections are made in the shop's own kitchens, renowned for such sweets as Desert Delight and Desert Snowball, as well as various fondant dates.

The Date Shop has figs, too. Figs in brandy, figs in sherry and brandied figs. Attractive baskets and pottery bowls make lovely gifts filled with date delicacies.

Let your far-away friends enjoy the delights of the desert, too, by sending them dates from the Desert Date Shop at El Mirador.

SALLY, THE FAMOUS

If you want your hands to look beautiful, get one of Sally's special manicures at El Mirador Hotel Beauty Shop. They feature manicures with all the Revlon shades—red dice, shy, bravo and amoa.

The Gibson girl pompadour is all the rage in hair-dos now, according to Sally. In fact, anything that shows your ears is "good," she quotes.

Soft effects at the back are a new note, too, to correspond with the bustle dresses and chapeaus. Sally gives all kinds of permanents and insists on test curls no matter how often the individual has had permanents before. They have a special permanent, Shal-lee, for fine hair that is excellent.

Your skin is dry from desert air? Then try some of the Jeanne Dugal creams with their extra rich mixtures. Especially for desert climate they are wonderful for arid skins.

Polish and lip stick must be good matches. Swimming calls for pedicures. And if you want to have a gay Saturday night dinner-dance call Sally and let her think up a fancy hair-do to go with your gown. You're sure to have fun.

THEY'RE SEEING RED

"Everyone's seeing red, this season," says Helen Lindsay of I. Magnin's at El Mirador Hotel. And she goes on to say that reds are good with everything — all combinations — chartreuse and red, poudre blue and red, jungle green and red — and even red, white and blue in the patriotic trio that is sweeping the fashions of the country.

Magnin's Christmas novelties have arrived and early desert shoppers are already taking advantage of the first selections—compact watches, French scarfs, picnic kits, make-up boxes and backgammon games.

Hoods are good on everything from bed slacks, to beach robes, on pajamas, sweaters, slack suits, and dresses. Even on coats they are being shown—one model of beige wool boasts a fur trim around the hood with an effective Eskimo note—most flattering.

English after-tennis sweaters are very smart—plaid skirts and fitted jackets—harem pants—imported alpaca shaggy coats. Individual selected evening clothes come in each week and Magnin's, as always, have their regular line of fine English cashmere sweaters.

A new innovation this year are the suede riding costumes in pastels with matching chaps and pale felt riding hats.

Another feature of the store is Blum's candy, assorted, that arrives fresh daily from Magnin's Wilshire store.

Definitely keyed for the discriminating are the smart, exclusive shops and studios of El Mirador. Here the quiet atmosphere of one of California's truly great hotels offers a haven to the casual shopper. Only the most reputable individuals and firms, those outstanding for quality in their field, are allowed to operate within the portals of this hotel.

Hollywood, Nov. 16.—"It is time for Hollywood to shift the accent to comedy," declared Wesley Ruggles, one of the film industry's most versatile producer-directors.

"Humor makes for sanity these days. Too much tense emotion is being stirred in real life by the prospect of a great part of the world being plunged into the vortex of destruction." "The motion picture is in a position to perform its greatest service in history by relieving the tension, by enabling minds to relax in the enjoyment of light, amusing entertainment." Ruggles is acting on the need for lighter entertainment by postponing a spectacular historical drama he had been preparing in order to produce and direct for COLUMBIA the gay romantic comedy, "Too Many Husbands," based on the stage play by Somerset Maugham. The comedy will star Jean Arthur, Fred MacMurray and Melvyn Douglas. The screen play is by Claude Binyon.

EDISON the MAN . . . With Clarence Brown set as director, Spencer Tracy's next picture is "Edison the Man," which John W. Considine will produce. Tracy will portray the great inventor from the age of 24 to 82. Concurrently M-G-M will make "Young Mr. Edison," with Mickey Rooney portraying Edison as a boy and with Norman Taurog as director. Tracy has gone East for first-hand research on his character.

DEATH VALLEY SCOTTY, for thirty years one of the West's most colorful characters, has finally accepted a Hollywood invitation. The mystery man of the desert has signified his willingness to act as technical advisor for Warner Brothers on their production of "Virginia City," costarring Errol Flynn and Miriam Hopkins. Warner Brothers Studio officials visited Scotty in his fabulous Death Valley retreat to suggest an affiliation with the film company engaged in transcribing another chapter of the old West to celluloid. Scotty refused any offer of a formal job or the salary to go with it. "I've got plenty of money," he said. "I don't have to work yet. I'll just do it to help you fellows out."

GEORGE RAFT . . . After several weeks of competitive bidding with other studios, Walter Wanger has borrowed George Raft from Warner Brothers studio to co-star with Joan Bennett in "House Across the Bay," which Archie Mayo is directing. Raft reported to the set immediately after signing his contract as the picture had already been before the cameras for ten days with Miss Bennett, Lloyd Nolan and Gladys George completing their intimate scenes early so that when Raft joined the cast the bigger production scenes could be started.

REPUBLIC PICTURES swings back into capacity production during the next two weeks, with four pictures slated to go before the cameras before November 20th. "South of the Border," new Gene Autry picture featuring Smiley Burnette and June Storey; "The Narrow Path" which stars Charles Bickford; "Money to Burn," with Jaffee, Lucille and Russell Gleason; and "Days of Jesse James" with Gabby Hayes and Donal Barry will all be in production by the time you read this.

LAURENCE OLIVER, Joan Fontaine, Producer David O. Selznick, Director Alfred Hitchcock and a dozen essential technicians are the only ones who know exactly what happens during the filming of the most dramatic scenes in "REBECCA." Extras and even the featured players including George Sanders, Judith Anderson, Nigel Bruce, C. Aubrey Smith and Reginald Denny were absent when Miss Fontaine and Olivier portrayed this high point of the picture. Olivier's conscience forces the words of confession from his lips. He is alone with Miss Fontaine, his second wife in an abandoned boathouse during the entire sequence. Because of the emotional intensity required for this scene Producer Selznick ordered that they be given complete privacy while it was being filmed. The scene which lasts eight minutes on the screen took three days to complete.

HUMPHREY BOGART has been assigned to the role of the bandit leader in the Warner Brothers production of "Virginia City" starring Errol Flynn, Miriam Hopkins and Randolph Scott. Bogart will join the "Virginia City" troupe on location in Arizona, where several weeks will be spent in photographing the story against picturesque backgrounds. Michael Curtiz is directing this Warner Brothers spectacle which follows last year's "Dodge City" along the pioneers' route.

MOST DIRECTORS find it necessary to break the tenseness following a difficult dramatic scene with some ridiculous quip or comic story. No exception to this rule is Archie Mayo, now directing "House Across the Bay" at the Walter Wanger studios. Joan Bennett and Gladys George had remade one tense scene four times and were on the verge of tears. For half an hour the set had been quiet and Mayo had insisted that the scene be played under an obvious nervous strain. Finally convinced that the two actresses had given their best to the emotional demands of the scene Mayo rose slowly from his chair. "That's very good; both of you were excellent," he said, "but did you girls ever hear the story of how I became a director?" Touching tear stained eyes Miss Bennett and Miss George admitted they hadn't the faintest idea. "Well, sir" went on Mayo with mock seriousness, "an executive once asked me what I was doing on the set at his studio. I said 'nothing.' So, he said, 'only directors do nothing' and made me a director." The nervous actresses could not hold back their laughter. The quip had broken the spell that had hung over the act and in a few minutes another and much gayer scene was well on its way to celluloid posterity.

ROBERT YOUNG's outstanding work in "NORTHWEST PASSAGE" has brought him the most important role of his career. He has been selected to play the role of Anton, hero of "Florian," which Winfield R. Sheehan will produce for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The role is the star part in a picture heralded as one of the most important of forthcoming productions. Young plays a groom in the Royal Imperial Riding Academy in Austria, where the famous Lipizzian horses, once ridden by the Royal family are trained. The war and revolution made possible his romance with a noblewoman by shattering social distinctions, and the romance is motivated by a beautiful Lipizzian stallion, property of Emperor Franz Joseph.

BETTY COMPTON, who rose to stardom in "The Miracle Man" will team with Joan Crawford in "Not Too Deep, Not Too Narrow."

Hobart Garlick Dines Junior Police Dept.

Hotelman Hobart Garlick, commissioner of the Palm Springs Junior Police Department, gave a luncheon at his Oasis Hotel last Saturday noon for the 10 members of the junior police organization.

Attending the affair besides Mr. Garlick and the junior police officers were Dr. A. D. Wilson, Morris F. Richardson and W. H. Bispham, chief of police of Palm Springs.

Commissioner Garlick presented the junior officers with their badges. These badges were also purchased for the boys by Mr. Garlick.

The personnel of the junior police department, all students in the local grade schools, is as follows: Bob Morrison, chief of police; Robert Geiser, captain of division 1; Louis Nichols, captain of division 2; and Charles Riley, J. C. Riley, Donald Omlin, Nicole Mutascio, Bill Seaton, Jr., Bill Doak and Robert Bell, officers.

Riverside County Scout Officials Meet Here

The regular monthly meeting of the finance committee of the Riverside County Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held at The Desert Inn with Henry Wick, Horace Pendery and A. J. M. Gardiner representing the Palm Springs Boy Scout executive committee at the affair.

Twenty-four men, representing Riverside, Arlington, Corona, Hemet, Banning, Coachella Valley, Murietta and other towns of the county, attended the meeting and were guests of Mrs. Nellie N. Coffman for dinner.

The county Boy Scout budget for 1940 was submitted and approved by the finance committee. The budget for 1940 is $13,000 and Palm Springs' share will be $600.

Funds for Boy Scout work in Riverside county are raised on what is known as the "fair share" basis. Each community raises for the county council an amount in proportion to its population, assessed valuation, number of troops, and available boys. Palm Springs must raise 4.5% of the total.

Palm Springs has had excellent service from the Riverside County Council, according to Al Gardiner, chairman of the local Boy Scout executive committee. Palm Springs now has three units—a Cub Scout pack, Boy Scout Troop 39 and a troop of "Senior Explorers." There is a possibility that the village may have two more units before the season is over, another regular Boy Scout troop and a "neighborhood patrol" at Cathedral City.

Interesting Talks Arranged by Dr. Macartney

All members of the Palm Springs Community church will be assured of very interesting sermons for the next two months judging by the fine program arranged by the minister, Dr. John Robertson Macartney.

Starting Sunday, November 19, the first topic will be "Ancient Wives and Modern Husbands."

Nov. 26—The Unfaithful Wife of Potiphar.

Dec. 3—The Wife of Nabal the Grouch.

Dec. 10—The poor girl who became wife of a great monarch.

Dec. 17—The Virtuous girl who became the ancestress of Christ.

Dec. 24—The Unmarried Virgin Mother.

Dec. 31—The Woman of Shattered Romances. She had five husbands.

Jan. 7—Herod's Wife—A Woman's Influence.

Jan. 13—Pilate's Wife. The Good Angel of her tempted husband.

PALM SPRINGS PICTORIAL ON SALE NEXT WEEK

On the newsstands early next week will be found the tenth annual edition of the Palm Springs Pictorial, the beautiful annual yearbook of Palm Springs and the desert, published by the Palm Springs News. It is said to exceed all other pictorials in every respect. A full color reproduction of Paul Grimm's desert paintings is used for the front and back pages of the Pictorial and photographs by Chuck Abbott are featured in the book.

See Sheptenko Special in the Classified Section.

PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

—Frank Partridge Photo.

Here are the stalwart ball players that make up the "Gardeners" softball club, who tonight, Friday, tangle with the Palm Springs Builders Supply "Lumberjacks" on the Field Club diamond in a game to determine the champions of the local nightball league. The Gardeners and the Lumberjacks are now tied for league top honors. Left to right the players are (bottom) Lerol Hall, "Biff" Joseph, Clarence Purnell, "Boots," Jack Johnson and Joe Prieto; (top row): Paul Siva, Nelson Bates, John Herrera, Jim Maynard, captain; Floyd Bigley and Willard McKinney.

Cathedral City

FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Cathedral City takes a bow this week for after many months of planning the Cathedral City Public Library will be open for the villagers. Hundreds of books and two cases that can be locked are now in readiness for use after weeks of cataloging and listing by Mrs. Juanita Tennis who has volunteered her time to the important community work.

While the Chamber of Commerce has sponsored the library and it is housed in the Town Hall it is hoped that at a dinner to be given to the public at a time to be announced later an association will be formed and a fine social and cultural activity will be carried on. County library books have been requested to supplement the donated books now owned. Mrs. Tennis has set the time of opening for Friday, November 17 and on each Tuesday and Friday thereafter.

The hours will be from 2 to 5 and books may be taken home or read at the Town Hall.

The books are free to property owners and to their guests when a sponsoring card is sent by the property owner or their resident agent.

A wide range of old and new fiction as well as many volumes of more serious vein are available. A fair reference library is in the making. Donations of books fit to be read by the public is always in order. Use the library as your own.

SCHOOL ELECTION Cathedral City, like the other community centers that look to Palm Springs as their rather infantile metropolitan hub is pleased with the outcome of the election that separates our High school from Banning.

We like Banning so well and believe so thoroughly in inter-community harmony that we are glad the amputation was quick and decisive and also practically bloodless for each area must stand on its own feet.

PUBLIC SCHOOL J. J. Grove, representing the former owners, is this week having the new school site surveyed and states that in the area there will be approximately six acres. It would seem that Cathedral City is a step nearer a public school and the community will certainly work in harmony with the Desert School District board in developing the school facilities here.

BOTANICAL TRIP We believe the center of the Parrish Amateur Botanical Society is at San Bernardino. Any way there is such a society (although the above name is incorrect) that makes a foray each month to some place of interest in Southern California. Last Sunday the trip was to a canyon on the fringe of Borego Valley where there is a stand of the rare Elephant Trees.

These trees are rare in California though common in Mexico. Indians have many taboos about this tree. It is a death tree and its sap is poisonous for their arrow tips (when they were using arrows). Possibly their superstition grew out of the fact that the sap is blood red and the tree bleeds from any wound made in the bark.

Interested guests of Dr. E. M. Harvey who is a member, were Don Admiral and W. R. Hillery.

Decide Not To Disband Cord. Council

About 25 persons assembled at the Frances S. Stevens school Wednesday night to decide the fate of the Co-ordinating Council and after much discussion decided that the council should not be disbanded but should continue on for the time being with no stated purpose. Stuart J. Kann was elected new president of the group.

The meeting was called this week to determine whether the Palm Springs Coordinating Council should continue to exist and function or whether it should be disbanded.

It was pointed out that the Co-ordinating Council had been organized last season to coordinate the recreational activities of the community. Since this work was taken over by the City Board of Recreation last spring when that body was created by the city council, there has been no further need for the Coordinating Council along those lines.

Could Handle Charity

The question up for discussion was whether or not the council should take over some new line of endeavor. It was stated at the meeting that there are now in existence 125 co-ordinating councils in California, almost every one different. They are made up of representatives from every organization in a community and co-ordinate worthwhile activities such as welfare work, charity, recreation, etc., in a city.

At the meeting Wednesday night some expressed the belief that the Palm Springs Co-ordinating Council has now served its purpose and should be disbanded. Others, however, thought that the organization should be kept intact and a worthwhile purpose found for it.

It was suggested that the council could sponsor a safety campaign for Palm Springs or that it might co-ordinate the welfare and charity work of the village and could conduct a survey of local housing conditions.

By far the most popular plan advanced at the meeting this week was that the Co-ordinating Council serve as a clearing house for all local charity work, thus preventing much duplication of effort.

Lump-Sum Donation

It was stated that business men are bothered many times each year by solicitors for various charities and that the same persons have to do most of the soliciting. By having the Co-ordinating Council solicit for all local charities business men and others could donate in one lump sum. This would necessitate only one solicitation; and the fund so raised could be prorated among the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Blind Institute, Rescue Club, Friendly Aid, church charities, Salvation Army, etc., on the basis of the amount of money each of these has raised in seasons passed, it was suggested. It would be easy for each to determine what its past budget has been, it was stated.

It was brought out that this would protect merchants against illegitimate "panhandlers," as the business man would have to make only one donation to take of official charities.

Plan Lacks Support

Many fine things were said in favor of the Co-ordinating Council assuming the task of co-ordinating local welfare work, but many pitfalls were also suggested to this scheme. Finally it was voted that the Co-ordinating Council should not be disbanded but that the organization should hold together without any stated purpose while a search is being made for a worthwhile job for it to do.

New officers were elected as follows: Jack Kann, president; Mrs. Robert Ransom, vice-president and Mrs. Harold Hicks, secretary.

Hi School Kids From Four Towns To Dance Here

High school students from Coachella Valley, Banning, Beaumont and Palm Springs will assemble at the Frances S. Stevens School here tonight, Friday, for a gay "All League Dance," which marks and celebrates the end of this year's football season for this high school league.

A nine-piece orchestra has been engaged to play for the dance, which is scheduled to get underway at 8:30 p. m. This may also be a victory dance for Palm Springs High school as the "Indians" play Banning High school at Banning this afternoon in the final game of the season for both schools. Palm Springs is favored to win the game this afternoon by virtue of its victory over Banning here earlier in the season.

The league crown will be presented at the dance tonight either to Coachella or Beaumont High school, depending on the outcome of their game this afternoon. Those two schools lead the league at this time and are playing for the championship today.

T. B. Assn. Will Launch Xmas Seal Sale Soon

Through preventive work in tuberculosis, that disease will become as rare in the future as smallpox and diphtheria are today, declared Dr. Reginald Smart Tuesday at a meeting of the Riverside County Health and Tuberculosis Association held in Riverside. Preventive work in these diseases has resulted in their practical disappearance, he declared.

Mrs. Jack C. Hill, chairman, and Mrs. Frances Crocker, secretary, represented the Palm Springs branch at this county meeting.

Riverside county is working out a fine program of preventive work under the direction of Dr. R. L. Kaufman, health commissioner, it was announced. Skin tests in all schools will discover which children react positively, and these will be X-rayed and given thorough chest examinations by experts at chest clinics to be held in the various schools. Palm Springs will have three clinics during the year, the first having been held this Thursday. At that time Dr. F. M. Pottenger, noted chest specialist of Monrovia, conducted the examination.

In Palm Springs children who are found positive are given X-rays at cost.

Early diagnosis is what counts in preventing the inroads of tuberculosis, Dr. Smart declared Tuesday. If it is found early it is easy to cure, he reminded his hearers, declaring, however, that with all the great decrease in tuberculosis in the country during the past twenty years, still more people die of this one disease than from any other.

Christmas Seals, sold during the period between Thanksgiving and Christmas, are the only source of revenue for this work, Mrs. Hill of Palm Springs pointed out yesterday. Seals will be mailed the day following Thanksgiving, as usual, and those receiving them are reminded that a dollar spent for seals will go a long way in preventive work in this locality.

The Palm Springs committee is making plans for an active seal sale during the holidays. Members of the local committee are Mrs. Hill, chairman; A. J. M. Gardiner, treasurer; Mrs. Francis Crocker, secretary; Mrs. Raymond Cree, publicity; Mrs. Horace Penderly, Mrs. Lloyd Simon and Col. Henry Hoagland.

The mind that is cheerful at present will have no solicitude for the future, and will meet the bitter occurrences of life with a smile.—Horace.

Turkey Dinner For Realtors at Smoke Tree

Thirty members of the Palm Springs Realty Board were guests of Smoke Tree Ranch at a turkey dinner Monday noon in the ranch dining room.

Following the business meeting of the Realty Board, the realtors inspected the Smoke Tree residential development. They were shown about the development with the idea in mind of learning more about the subdivision for sales purposes.

Raymond Cree, prominent local realtor and president of the school board of the Banning Union High School district, discussed the high school district election held Tuesday. He stressed the importance of getting out the vote. He asked the realtors for their cooperation and they pledged their help. The next day the realtors hauled voters to the polls.

Miss Muriel Fulton was elected new secretary of the local board. She succeeds former secretary James V. Guthrie, who resigned recently to move to Balboa. Some new members were also taken in at the recent meeting this week. Fred S. Markham, president of Smoke Tree Ranch, Inc., and C. E. Gordon, ranch manager, the hosts, were also on deck for the turkey dinner meeting.

BILL CROSS ENTERTAINS GUESTS

Guests of real estate broker William J. Cross over last week were Mr. and Mrs. John Thayer of Hollywood.

The Thayers anticipate coming to Palm Springs for the winter in the near future.

Christmas Club To Pay Out $1,600 In Palm Springs

A great Christmas shopping season lies just ahead for Palm Springs, judging from the outpouring of Christmas funds scheduled to go to the local members of Bank of America's Christmas club on December 1. In Palm Springs more than $1,600.00 will be paid out to club members according to A. J. M. Gardiner, manager of Bank of America's interest here.

Throughout California more than 215,000 club members will receive a grand total of approximately $14,000,000 which is more than 16 per cent higher than last year, and also is an all-time high mark for the nation. Bank of America's Christmas club is the largest in existence.

"Obviously the Christmas club method of making sure of plenty of money for Christmas is becoming increasingly popular," said Gardiner. "Small weekly, semi-monthly or monthly deposits, or salary deductions, are hardly missed. However, the total at the end of the year, plus interest paid by the bank, proves highly acceptable to club members."

"Merchants are appreciative, as the plan is a vital stimulant to business."

"Other figures disclose that not only are the Christmas savers increasing in numbers throughout the state, but the average amount of individual savings is increasing. In 1930, the average weekly deposit per member was 54 cents. Today, the average is $1.36."

The true source of cheerfulness is benevolence.—The soul that perpetually overflows with kindness and sympathy will always be cheerful.—P. Godwin.

Armistice Day Program at The Desert Inn

To celebrate and commemorate Armistice Day this year, when the countries of Europe are again at war, a group of villagers and hotel guests were invited by Hotelman Earl Coffman to participate in an Armistice Day program at The Desert Inn last Saturday morning at eleven o'clock.

The program opened with the Desert Inn orchestra playing "The Star Spangled Banner," the celebrants joining in. Dr. John R. Macartney, pastor of the Palm Springs Community church, led the Salute to the Flag. Remarks appropriate to Armistice Day were also given by Dr. Macartney.

Dates Set for Annual Golf Tournament

Last week officials of Palm Springs' famous Desert Golf club met with C. Pardee Erdman, president of the Southern California Golf association, to make arrangements for the Annual Palm Springs Invitational Golf tournament to be held here Feb. 2-3-4. This event will be strictly invitational with only about 80 golfers competing.

The Calcutta pool will be held Friday, Feb. 2, with Mr. Erdman and radio announcer Bill Hay in charge.

Heavy Play

The Desert Golf club for the past two weeks has been very active with numerous matches being played daily. This week saw J. S. Brooks of Washington, D. C., and J. E. French of San Francisco losing a close one to George Howard and L. W. Dennison. Also seen during the past two weeks were Miss Paulette Goddard and Mrs. Goddard enjoying a round almost every afternoon, Jack Reeder and Don Ameche getting in their daily golf, Joe Penner and Mrs. Penner trying to lower their course record, Mrs. Frank J. Schulte, Jr., of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the coming golfers trying to match par; and D. G. Keeler, Los Angeles; Glave Goddard, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Walker Kennedy, Salt Lake City; Jesse Lasky, moving picture producer; and W. Dorsett of Long Beach, all enjoying games of golf under the warm desert winter sun.

Course Fine Shape

The course is in excellent condition this season. The fairways have filled in during the summer and the greens, although just seeded about six weeks ago, are coming along fine. The early fall rains have added considerably to the color of the course.

The large putting greens, scene of many a Sunday putting event, are now in "the pink of condition." Thos. A. O'Donnell, owner of the course, along with A. R. Bartlett of Detroit, has been practicing some these days on the putting greens.

George Howard, the Desert Golf club's popular pro, returned recently to Palm Springs after a very fine summer in the East. During the summer Howard played well, competing in numerous tournaments. During the early part of the summer he teamed with the famous John Montague for a series of matches through the middle west.

Mrs. Hurst Vincent Campbell of Pinehurst, N. C., the golfing center of the East, has arrived in the village for the winter and is enjoying many fine games at the Desert Golf club. She is an excellent golfer.

O'Donnell Back

Also back in the village for several weeks now and a daily visitor at the golf course is Thos. A. O'Donnell. Mr. O'Donnell is owner of the Desert Golf club, one of the finest courses in Southern California; and it was

Swimming Meet At El Mirador Saturday Afternoon

The twelfth annual A.A.U. Desert Swimming meet will take place Saturday afternoon, November 18 at El Mirador hotel. Spectacular diving, racing and formation swimming will make this one of the most exciting meets in history and an audience of several hundred is expected to witness the events.

Spirited rivalry will mark the 100 free style champion race for women between Esther Williams, national 100 meter free style champion and Virginia Hopkins, former holder of the title. The girls are the two foremost spring swimmers in America today.

Paul Wolf, 50 meter world's record holder will race in the same event for men against Irving Glassband, 400 free style champ. Marjorie Gestring, Olympic diving champion and Ruth Jump, national high diving champion will give exhibitions with Frank Kurtz, member Olympic teams for the past two games and Sammy Lea, spectacular Chinese diver and potential 1940 Olympic material. Edith Motridge, national 100 meter backstroke champion will race in another spirited women's event in a 100 meter backstroke race against Marion Hopkins, member national relay team.

Lloyd Hagen will compete with Edith Pemberton, Pacific coast 100 meter champion in a special handicap breast stroke event. Wolf, Hagen and Glassband will participate in a 300 yard medley.

Another colorful event will be the troupe of five women swimmers with Harry Pierson of the Pasadena Athletic club who swim in sensational formations. Harold "Dutch" Smith, former Olympic diving champion and swimming instructor at El Mirador for the past five years will do twin diving events with Bill Lewin, former Canadian champion, now instructing at El Mirador pool.

Fred Cady will announce the meet.

STANFORD STUDENTS SPEND WEEK-END HERE WITH PARENTS

Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Reid had as their guests for dinner Friday evening their son Harry Reid, Jr., and a party of young people including Hazel Payne, Peggy O'Neil, Ann Page and John Seaman.

They were joined here by Warren Pinney, Jr. The group drove down from Stanford University to attend the Stanford-U. S. C. game in Los Angeles. They returned to college on Monday.

MAX JEWETTS RETURN TO VILLAGE; HAVE EASTERN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Max Jewett, winter residents here for many years, returned Tuesday to open their home in Las Palmas. They spent the summer in San Diego.

Week-end guests at the Jewett home are Miss Florence Pell of Cincinnati, Mrs. Frank Harmon of San Diego and her sister of Cincinnati.

Charel de Thomee, internationally known star, who is now packing them in at the Plaza Cafe with his piano and song. A one-time star of the Folies Bergere of Paris, de Thomee is a popular and well known entertainer of Palm Springs, having spent several seasons here.

Many Celebrities At El Mirador

Celebrities at El Mirador hotel during the past week-end were numerous, giving indication of the busy season that is expected throughout the winter.

Mr. Al Jolson, recently returned from the East, was at the hotel and spent long hours around the pool and in the sun cabinets, endeavoring to recover from a cold contracted during the trip. With him was Mr. Bob Crawford, also of Hollywood.

Miss Lola Lane was also registered from the movie capital and her companion was Miss Helen Reed. Miss Lane spent a great deal of her time on the El Mirador courts. Mr. Peter Lorre of "Mr. Moto" fame has been at the El Mirador ever since it opened November 1.

Mr. Bruno Lessing, noted columnist and vagabond traveler, with Mrs. Lessing, arrived Saturday and will spend some time in Palm Springs. Also at the El Mirador are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brooks, Jr. Mr. Brooks is vice-president of American Newspapers, Inc., which control the Hearst papers.

From N. B. C. came Rush Hughes, noted commentator and son of Rupert Hughes, famous writer. Also from the same radio studios were Miss Frances Scully, fashion publicist for N.B.C. and with her two starlets, Miss Rosemary DeCamp and Miss Helen Wood, star of the "Those We Love" program.

All attended the first dinner-dance of the season Saturday evening with music by Daryl Harper and his band, who played last year. They will play every Saturday night for dinner-dances and at dinner during the week.

HERBERT CARPENTERS RETURN TO VILLAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Carpenter returned to the village this week from a delightful summer spent at Franconia, New Hampshire.

GEORGE BORWELL STRUCK BY AUTO

An accident that might have been very serious occurred Sunday when a passing motorist struck little George Borwell who was dashing out into the street at that moment.

This was an unavoidable accident and little George was taken to the Reid Clinic where he was examined by Dr. Henry S. Reid and X-rays taken revealed no serious injury.

SON AND FAMILY VISIT MRS. BARTON

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Penrose and son of San Diego are spending this week with Mr. Penrose's mother, Mrs. E. M. Barton at "Sands of Time" here in the Village.

Crowd of Young People At Inn Dance

With the young collegiate set taking the lead in the evening's festivities, the Desert Inn's dinner dance on Armistice day was an unusually gay celebration. Ruth Roberson, daughter of the George Robersons, was hostess to a week-end houseparty of classmates from Flintridge. The group included Edna Pidgeon, Marolyn Grunsky, Helen Rankin, Alice Williams, Doug Anderson, Burton McCree, Bud Cohn, Larry Parks and Ralph Spots.

Ruth and her guests enjoyed a full week-end program which included swimming, hiking, riding, picnicking and dinner dancing. Owen Coffman, son of the Earl Coffmans, joined Ruth's party with a group of six Stanford classmates who were his week-end houseguests at the Inn. Betty Coffman, Earl's sister, and a party of her high school friends were among the other dinner dancers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keck, Jr., of Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Greene of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blacklock of Houston, Tex., spent the week-end together at the Inn and made up a table at the dinner dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Donnell and Col. and Mrs. Henry Hoagland dined together at the party, and passed the latter part of the evening playing bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schilling, who have been guests of the George Robersons for the past week, joined the latter couple and Mrs. Frances Little and Harry Batchelor at the dinner dance.

MANY GUESTS AT DUGAN HOME

Recent out of town visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dugan were: Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dugan, Mrs. Lundak and George Kryhl, all of Santa Ana.

Their son, Jack, and Mrs. Dugan of Los Angeles spent the week-end with them and also Dr. Carson Mitchell of Los Angeles and Miss Lucille Gates of Orange.

COM. AND MRS. BOYD VISIT IN LONG BEACH

Spending Thanksgiving and the week-end in Long Beach are Commander and Mrs. Thales Boyd.

While there they are guests of Mrs. Boyd's sister, Mrs. A. G. Noble and will bring back Mrs. L. Lawbaugh for a visit here.

ZADDIE BUNKER ENTERTAINS HOUSE GUESTS

Blossom McDonald and Kathie Garity, both of Beverly Hills, were house guests of Zaddie Bunker over last week end.

Blossom McDonald is the sister of film star Jeanette McDonald.

Desert Riders Start Season's Activities

At a meeting held last Friday, Nov. 10, to make plans for this season, Earl Gibbs of Michigan and Palm Springs was elected president of the Desert Riders, succeeding former President Frank Bennett.

The full list of officers elected at the important first meeting of the new season Friday is as follows: Earl Gibbs, round-up boss (president); Norma Oliver, straw boss (vice-president); Anthony Burke, top wrangler (secretary); Eugene V. Griffes, trail boss; Kathie Clifton, treasurer.

A new board of directors was also nominated to assist the officers in making important decisions. The new board is as follows: Frank Bennett, Earl Coffman, H. E. Patterson, Dr. F. M. White, Col. Henry Hoagland and Raymond Cree.

Trail boss Eugene Griffes made his report on the condition of trails in the vicinity of Palm Springs. Work done this season, he reported, included the following: Tahquitz Canyon trail repaired, including water crossing and tie-up space at the falls; and some repairs made to Skyline trail but more needed. Money was voted to the trails committee for use on "Wild Horse" trail, on the new trail to Long Valley, on Cathedral canyon and for use on the desert trail to Smoke Tree Forest.

Plans were made for the first weekly breakfast ride, which was held Tuesday morning of this week. Eight o'clock breakfast was enjoyed at "Willow's Bottom," on the desert west of the airport hangars.

Guests Enjoy Moving Pictures at Weinberger Home

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weinberger were hosts at a very delightful buffet supper Friday evening, complimenting Mrs. Weinberger's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shiret of Chicago.

After dinner the party enjoyed viewing the many interesting moving pictures taken by the Weinbergers on their trip around the world. Also many pictures were shown belonging to Earl Gibbs and Frank Davies.

Attending besides the Weinbergers and Shirets were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. David Livingston, Dr. and Mrs. John Robertson Macartney, Mrs. Darcey Lloyd, Mrs. Julia Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Rosenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hyman and Mrs. Ona Brown.

Shirley Temple And Mother At Desert Inn

Shirley Temple is vacationing at the Desert Inn, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George Temple, her stand-in, Mary Lou Isleib, and her private tutor. They are occupying the Temple bungalow at the Inn, which they have visited for the past five seasons.

Shirley has been spending many hours a day on her bicycle as well as trying her skill at badminton, archery, croquet and other games. The brilliant little star has an abundance of energy and enthusiasm for all games and sports.

ALTAR SOCIETY GIVES PARTY

Members of the Altar society of Our Lady of Solitude Catholic church and their friends gathered at the church rectory Monday afternoon for a benefit party.

After a delicious dessert the afternoon was devoted to bridge.

Mrs. Louis Cass of Flintridge and her mother, Mrs. Charles O. Nourse of Berkeley Square, Los Angeles, have been enjoying a sojourn at El Mirador hotel.

Many Notables At Racquet Club Dinner Dance

One of the gayest crowds of the new season were to be found wining and dining at the Racquet club on Saturday night. Harry Cohn entertained Vic Orsatti, Joan Perry and Lola Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bellamy hosted Wesley Ruggles, Franchot Tone, Addison Randall, Jim Bryant, and Peter Lorre squired Miss Evelyn Frey. At the Charles Butterworth table were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Earl, Mrs. Lois Earl, Eddie Moran, the Paul Lukases and Mr. Howard Hawks. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Carlisle with Frank McGrath, while Dr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Mahoney made a pleasant twosome.

Cush Branch provided the music, while Barrie O'Shea, dance instructor at the club, led the crowd in La Congas and Rhumbas. Judy Starr merited the spontaneous approval of the crowd with several songs as only she can sing them.

Highlight of the evening was the invasion of the club by the girls' football team. M. C., Frank Bogert, wore his diplomacy to a thin edge trying to keep the girls from exhibiting their running line plays in the middle of the dance floor and after some persuasion managed to confine them to dancing. Doris Roberts, quarterback, surprised everyone with an excellent vocal rendition of "A Man and His Dream," following which, two of the girls did a little jitterbugging. Order was restored after a noisy exit and the party went on until the wee hours.

WEEK-END GUESTS AT BOYD HOME

Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Thales S. Boyd had as their guests over the week-end Mrs. Boyd's sister and brother-in-law, Com. and Mrs. A. G. Noble and daughter, Nancy, of Long Beach.

Other recent week-end guests of the Boyds were Capt. and Mrs. A. T. Bidwell and Com. and Mrs. Sam Dunham, all of Long Beach.

THANKSGIVING GUESTS AT HANBURY HOME

Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanbury were Dr. and Mrs. Sanford and Dr. and Mrs. Wilson and daughter, all of Pasadena.

Rescue Club Buys Portable Radio Unit

Arriving in Palm Springs in about two weeks will be a two-way portable radio sending and receiving set for the Rescue Club, which will greatly assist them in their rescue work in the mountains of this area.

The portable unit is the same frequency as the Palm Springs police department receiving and sending apparatus and is being purchased by the police department and the Rescue Club jointly.

According to Jim Maynard, president of the Rescue Club, the portable radio unit will be of invaluable assistance in rescue work. It will make it possible for searchers to keep in constant contact with the village, carrying on a two-way conversation whenever necessary with the police station.

The set can be used within a radius of 100 miles.

L. A. Girls Softball Team Whips Builders Supply Nine 5-4 in Battle of Sexes

When Captain Milt Hicks of the Builders Supply with a man on third in the last of the ninth hit a "red hot" line drive to Stonebraker of the Marshall-Clampett "Amazons," who whipped the ball to first for the put-out, it was all over but the shouting at the Field Club Sunday afternoon with the girls returning to the big city on the long end of a 5-4 score.

Large Crowd

A crowd of close to 800 assembled at the Field Club Sunday afternoon at 2:30 to see the battle of the sexes when a girls' softball aggregation from Los Angeles took the lead in the first inning of their game with a local Builders Supply men's team, never to be headed the entire game. The "Amazons" were sparked by the superb pitching of the great Lois Terry and Miss Payne, who struck out 6 and 5 respectively of the big, brawny "Lumberjacks."

Standout players for the girls were Lois Terry, Shirley Payne and Lois Roberts, the barefoot wonder. For the men Jimmy Cooper and Sid Canales turned in fine games. Also Buster Keaton and Vic Orsatti, filmland notables, added interest to the game with a fast double play, the only one of the game. Actor Buster Keaton turned in a fine game.

The "Amazons" turned in a flawless game with only one error to their discredit. On the other hand, five errors were scored against the men.

Hicks Out at First

In the last of the ninth inning Captain Milt Hicks came to bat with the Builders Supply's tying run on third. Hicks hit a hard line drive, but Miss Stonebraker came up with the ball in "big-league" style and "streaked" it to first for the final out of the game. The game ended at 4:30.

Card of Thanks

Voters of Palm Springs:

As chairman of the Lions Club committee engaged in getting out the vote on the day of our recent high school district election, I desire to extend my sincere thanks to every person who helped in this work. The success of your efforts must be a source of satisfaction and a greater reward than the appreciation which I may express.

The people of Palm Springs will benefit for many years as a direct result of your conscientious efforts, which brought out the largest vote that has ever been recorded in a special election in this area.

I offer my sincerest thanks to each of you.

CHARLES BURKET.

DR. REID TO TEACH FIRST AID TO RESCUE CLUB

Jim Maynard, president of the Rescue Club, announced this week that Dr. Henry S. Reid, prominent local physician, has volunteered to teach first aid to the club members one night a month.

The Rescue Club meets on the second Wednesday and the fourth Thursday of each month at the fire hall at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Reid will teach a class in first aid to one or the other of these meetings every month.

Council Meeting

The city council held a meeting Wednesday morning prior to the final zoning hearing. The council meeting was opened by Mayor Philip Boyd at 9 a. m., and the zoning hearing followed at 10:00.

Ordinance No. 70, an ordinance slightly amending the city's uniform building code, was passed. This amendment liberalizes the required qualifications for plumbers and electricians serving on the city board of examiners and appeals.

The chairman of the public safety committee made his report. The committee recommended that the following changes be made in the Dance Ordinance: That a fee of $3 per day or $150 per year be charged for conducting public dances, and that it should not be mandatory for a police officer to be on duty at all public dances excepting where it is recommended for the occasion by the police department. The committee's report was referred to City Attorney Roy Collegate, and he was instructed to draw an ordinance embodying the committee's recommendations. The new ordinance will be brought before the council on Dec. 6.

City Clerk Guy Pinney read to the council the terms of a proposed license from the Palm Springs Sanitary Board by which that board would grant to the city a license to use the city dump. A resolution was passed accepting the license and the city clerk and the mayor were authorized to execute the same.

Councilman Jack Williams read a report of the general committee relative to the insurance on the city's dump truck. He stated that Koehner-Samson had submitted the low bid. The bid was approved by the council. It was reported that the general committee of the city council has been conferring with the Desert Riders concerning the advisability of a trail ordinance. Their recommendations were referred to the city attorney, who was instructed to draw a proposed trail ordinance.

Frank Pershing reported for the street committee. He suggested that the state be instructed to stop cleaning Palm Canyon Drive, in view of the fact that Henry Lotz, the city street sweeper, is doing such a thorough job. It was pointed out that the State has been cleaning Palm Canyon Drive through town once each week. If this were stopped, the money thus saved could be used to keep the street in better repair.

The council recommended that the health ordinance be interpreted to mean that all schools in Palm Springs, both public and private, where food is served, must be required to take out food permits just the same as other restaurants of the village.

The council recessed for a few minutes and then the zoning hearing was opened at 10 a. m.

Tournament awards will be made at 10 p. m. Perry T. Jones, president of the Southern California Tennis Association, has donated a special prize for the junior boys doubles event.

The tennis tournament and the tournament dance are being sponsored as an annual event by the Palm Springs City Board of Recreation.

FIRE DEPT. CALLED TO EXTINGUISH BLAZING AWNING

The Palm Springs fire department answered a call at 11 p. m., Thursday night, to the Desert Electric Company, 282 N. Palm Canyon Drive, to extinguish a blaze in the awning in front of that business establishment.

Firemen expressed the opinion that someone had thrown a lighted cigarette into the awning.

Chief Bispham Warns Against Bogus Checks

Stating that several fictitious checks have been accepted by Palm Springs business men since the beginning of this season, Chief of Police W. H. Bispham yesterday issued a warning to Palm Springs merchants to be very cautious in accepting checks from strangers.

Several professional bogus check passers, "papers hangers" as police call them, have been operating in Palm Springs recently. Police are on their trail now.

Chief Bispham stated that these counterfeit check passers are very clever and warned that localities should be very cautious about cashing checks for any strangers.

Palm Springs...

district and how well local election workers did their job is reflected in the vote this week, when Palm Springs and Cathedral City cast more "yes" votes for division than the total of all the votes cast in Banning and Cabazon.

The voters of Cathedral City and Garnet cast their ballots at the grammar school here in Palm Springs, and therefore the vote of these villages is not indicated in the above tabulation—it is included in the Palm Springs figures.

Heavy Vote Here

The total vote on the measure was 1407 for division, 448 against division, and 19 spoiled ballots, a total of 1874 votes cast.

Palm Springs went almost 100 per cent for the measure with a vote of 1130 for division and 19 against, while Edom cast all of its 21 votes for division.

Banning and Cabazon voted against division. The vote here was: yes, 246; no 411. In Cabazon the vote was: yes, 10; no, 18.

The division becomes effective July 1, 1940, and after that time the Banning and Palm Springs districts will be under separate boards.

Board in Quandary

According to Raymond Cree, president of the Banning Union High School District board, the school board is now at a loss just how to proceed. The board knows that the division becomes effective July 1, 1940, and that a school board of five members for the new Palm Springs Union High School District must be selected before that time.

The Palm Springs board will have to be selected before June in order that teachers may be hired for next year for the Palm Springs high school and next year's budget worked out. The matter has been referred to Earl Redwine, district attorney of Riverside county, for an opinion. It may be that Palm Springs will have to hold an election in the near future to elect five persons to the new school board, or this may not be done for some time yet.

Many Workers

Working all day Tuesday to get out the Palm Springs vote were the following election workers: Mrs. Charles N. Bosworth, chairman of the Woman's Club election committee; and the Mesdames Raymond Cree, Francis Crocker, W. J. Martin, Bertha Carter, Homer Jenkins, Roberta Seaton, Rufus Chapman and Georgiana G. Griffith.

The following men: Charles Burket, chairman of the Lions election committee; Jack Kann, Joe Omlin, Billy Wright, John H. McMann, Culver Nichols, Jimmy Cooper, Walter Sommerville, Rufus Chapman, George Oliver and William Cross.

Also Mrs. Vera Nicholson, Katherine Pollak, Dr. Georgiana Raymond, Mrs. Patricia Gray, Mrs. Nellie N. Coffman, Mrs. Katherine Smith, Miss Muriel E. Fulton, Mrs. Carl Lykken, Mrs. Fleeta B. Wroughton, Mrs. Armand V. Turonnet, and Mrs. A. F. Hicks. The Mesdames Harold Hicks, Henry S. Reid, Claude Whittier, Naomi Jones, Horace F. Pendery, Spencer Kellogg, Merrill Crockett, Dorothy M. Boyd, Clarence Hyde and Louise Burket.

NOTED AUTHOR RETURNS TO VILLAGE FOR WINTER

Leslie and Barbara Charteris returned to Palm Springs last week after spending the summer in England. They sailed from England to return to America on September 2, the same day the ill-fated Athenia departed. They expect to spend the winter here and Mr. Charteris has plans to write a book or two during the coming months. Mr. Charteris is a well known author, his "Saint" series of detective stories being considered among the best of this type of writing.

Churches

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES TO HOLD THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Thanksgiving Day services will be conducted on Thursday in Churches of Christ, Scientist. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Thanksgiving" and the Golden Text is from I Thessalonians: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

Among the Bible citations in the Lesson-Sermon are these verses from the Psalms: "O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people." "Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations."

The Lesson-Sermon presents also these words from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech. . . . What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds."

During the service an opportunity will be afforded Christian Scientists in the congregation to give testimonies appropriate to the occasion. . . .

PROMINENT PEOPLE REGISTERED AT PALM SPRINGS HOTEL

Among the bay people who have been enjoying a stay at the Palm Springs Hotel are Mrs. Herschell Hagan and her charming daughter, Mrs. Carl Abbott, socialites from Piedmont; Mr. and Mrs. Carl I. Warnecke of Oakland. Mr. Warnecke is a prominent architect of the bay city, having drawn plans for many of the city's finest buildings. Others from the bay district are Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Iverson and their daughter.

Among the prominent folk arriving from Beverly Hills were Gilbert Roland, Eddie Moran, Don George and Wilbur D. May.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gerlinger of Dallas, Oregon, have been enjoying a lengthier pre-holiday stay on the desert. Mr. Gerlinger is president of the Dallas, Salem, and Klamath Falls Iron Works, and is a yearly visitor to Palm Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Vanderbilt and Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Kohr of Los Angeles; Ervin W. Holden, Eddie Harris, and John Lykes of Hollywood; and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gardner of Lansing, Michigan, were also registered this week.

Still Short $250 To Pave Tamarisk As Time Limit Near

With only $250 left to be raised it appeared today that the amount necessary to pave Tamarisk Road would not be obtained by property owners in the northeast part of the village in time to get the road paved this season by the county.

Frank Davies, Claude Freed and David Livingston have worked hard for weeks to raise the money to pave Tamarisk Road by asking various property owners in the northeast side for donations. They have till Tuesday of next week at the very latest to raise the necessary money, because after that the county is going to move its equipment from this area until next year.

Including all pledges, some of which have not yet been received, the Tamarisk Road fund is still short $250 of the necessary amount. Mr. Davies expressed his regret yesterday that the goal should be so close and yet seemed destined to failure.

Can Pave Cheaply

The county has offered to pave Tamarisk Road at a very low cost if it can be done while all the county equipment is still in the village. The county plans to move this equipment from here soon, however. The cost of paving the street would be only 37½ cents per lineal foot along each side of the street at the present time.

If the road is not paved now, it may not be paved for several years, according to Mr. Davies. He explained that County Road Superintendent Craven had offered to do the paving at a very low figure, in fact at a price that won't be offered again soon, according to Davies. With prices of all kinds on the way up, Mr. Davies thinks that it will be several years before the road can be paved if it is not paved this year.

Persons wishing to donate to this fund or to get information concerning the proposed project should telephone Frank Davies, phone 6173.

The plan is to pave Tamarisk Road from the end of the present paving on east to Hermosa Drive.

Classes Formed At M.I.A. Meeting Wednesday Nite

Sixty members of the Palm Springs chapter of the Mutual Improvement association gathered at the Frances S. Stevens school Wednesday evening for their second meeting.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Morris Richardson giving a violin solo followed by a piano solo by Richard Crandall. Next came a tap dance number by Dorothy Oliver and Pat White and a reading by Loretta Faulk.

The members were divided into four sections, classifications being as follows: girls between 15 and 18, and women over 18; boys between the ages of 15 and 18 and men over 18.

The women over 18 elected as their president, Mrs. Frank Honeycutt and secretary, Mrs. Esther Driskell. The men over 18 elected as their president, Gene Kramer and secretary, Bill Kubic.

A number of classes were formed at this meeting. The drama class will be headed by Mrs. Bert Faulk and dancing will be taught by Dorothy Oliver. Sports have been divided into two groups. Mrs. Moya Fildew will direct women's sports and Maurice McCann will head the men's. A voice class will be conducted by Frank Honeycutt and an orchestral class by Andy Anderson.

The public is invited to attend the weekly meetings of this chapter. These meetings are held every Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the grammar school. There is no charge to belong to this organization.

Ed Johnson of Bishop visited his father, Barney Johnson of Palm Springs, here last week.

Palm Springs Wins 7-6 from Banning High

A dull, listless game of football for players and gallery alike which as suddenly changed at the beginning of the second half of the game to a fighting, slashing brand of top calibre pigskin carrying, was exhibited on the Banning high school football gridiron this afternoon when the Banning Bronchos went down in unashamed defeat to the Palm Springs Indians 6-7.

The first half of the game, sluggishly played throughout, displayed very little except fumbles, incomplete passes and short runs by both sides.

At the sound of the whistle at the beginning of the second half, the ball was kicked off as in the first half; but there the resemblance ended. A streaking Indian took the ball and was off down the field. But his run was short-lived. A Broncho who acted like an untamed mustang, came out of nowhere and the Indian was down. Whatever had inspired the Indians during the intermission between halves had evidently inspired the Bronchos, too.

Many Thrills in Second Half

With the ball in the Indians' possession after the opening of the second half, they began to drive towards the Bronchos' goal line. First down after first down carried them to within striking distance. A long pass to McGonagle was tried, with disastrous results. Reaching high in the air for the ball as it came to him, McGonagle barely touched it with his fingers, making it a fumbled ball. Realizing his mistake after it was too late, of not letting it go for an incomplete pass, McGonagle was forced to see the Bronchos get possession of the pigskin.

No less determined to carry the ball the other way, now that they had the oval, the Bronchos started their march to the other end of the field. On their fourth down the Bronchos tried a new play that called for a short pass over center. Charles Cochran, Broncho fullback, dropped the pigskin in Thatcher Warren's hands only to see Warren drop the ball.

With errors on each side that probably cost touchdowns, both elevens began to display a brand of football that brought people out of crowded bleachers and down to the side-lines. Banning, determined to get a touchdown, and unable to break through the Indians' lines, took to the air.

Howard Wiefels, left halfback for the Bronchos, took the ball in a spurt of real broken field running and at the end of thirty yards threw a long looping pass to Warren. Once more on the enemy's goal line, the Bronchos carried the ball forward for three downs. On the fourth, Wiefels rifled a short pass to Johnson, right end, and Banning had made the first touchdown.

MOTOR OFFICIALS HAPPY!

Keenly interested in Chevrolet's current training schools for new salesmen are these four executives of Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors. Left to right—E. A. Nimnicht, assistant general sales manager, Detroit; W. G. Lucado, zone manager, Los Angeles; S. M. Johnson, assistant regional manager, Oakland; and Thomas Brents, national director of Chevrolet's salesmen's training schools. At a series of business meetings held in this area this week, the four highly commended the Southern California sales schools.

CHEVROLET MEN GET INTENSIVE SALES TRAINING

While engineering, research, manufacturing and distribution all play major roles in the production of modern automobiles, these highly specialized phases are being paralleled by modern developments in salesmanship—a fact that is clearly demonstrated currently in Los Angeles by Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors.

That the selling of Chevrolets is a definite science long has been recognized by officials of the Company and to further develop this science, Chevrolet is conducting throughout the country a series of specialized schools at which new men, who desire to become leaders in the automobile selling field, are thoroughly trained in the fundamentals of selling.

The schools, which are under the direction of William T. Holland, assistant zone manager of Chevrolet in this zone, are being held at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. They represent no cost to the students and the only requisites for admission are a sincere desire to become a Chevrolet salesman and to have been recommended by the candidate's neighborhood Chevrolet dealer.

Scores of men are being enrolled in the schools regularly. The course is of several days' duration and concludes with a graduation banquet at which many of the students are principal speakers. Men are chosen for the schools from all walks of life. They include clerks, school-teachers, seamen, salesmen, mechanics and a host of others.

The classes are similar to those being conducted throughout the country under the general supervision of Thomas Brents of Chevrolet's Central Office staff. Brents was a visitor in this section last week and stated that the local schools are among the finest in America. Many thousands of men have been graduated and have sold a tremendous number of automobiles for Chevrolet dealers. They are in part responsible for Chevrolet's sales leadership throughout the nation—a leadership that has been maintained over all other manufacturers of motor cars for eight out of the past nine years.

2 in Riverside Jail for Stealing Car Here

Two men are in the county jail awaiting trial before the Riverside County Superior Court, one woman is out on a 30-day suspended jail sentence and a third man has been released after spending a day in the Indio "hoosegow"—all as a result of the disappearance of a car owned by Todd Tomlinson from the vacant lot next to the Palm Springs Garage last Friday night.

Herbert "Todd" Tomlinson, proprietor of the Palm Springs Bowling Academy, reported to Palm Springs police about midnight Friday that his car was missing from the vacant lot where he usually parks it. He said that he had left the keys in the car.

At 2:30 p. m., the next day, Saturday, Joe Welmas, Indian reservation police officer, reported to village police that he had located the car on the reservation. John Stone, 30, Los Angeles mechanic and former racing driver, was found asleep on the ground near the car with the keys to the car in his pocket. His personal effects were in the car. Stone was arrested by Officers Welmas, Claude Roberts and Sgt. Jacobson and booked at the police station with suspected conspiracy to commit grand theft auto.

Also arrested Saturday were Harold Nighswonger, 46, truck driver, and Bryan Nighswonger, his brother, both friends of Stone, and Stone's mother, Mrs. Katharine Stone. All were arrested on the Indian reservation. All were booked on suspicion of complicity in the crime.

Stone was lodged in the Palm Springs jail, the two Nighswonger men were taken to Indio and Mrs. Stone was placed in jail at Riverside.

They were all arraigned before Judge Albert R. Hoffman in Palm Springs this week.

Bryan Nighswonger was released as innocent. Harold Nighswonger pled guilty and signed a confession. He was bound over to the Superior Court in Riverside.

Mrs. Katharine Stone, who, according to reports, had been drunk the day before and was still drunk when arrested on Saturday, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail on a drunk charge. The sentence was suspended upon her application for permission to leave the county and remain away.

Stone pled not guilty, but later changed his plea to guilty and signed a written confession. He was also bound over to the superior court at Riverside to answer to driving a car without the owner's consent.

In reconstructing the crime Chief Bispham stated that the car must have been stolen about eight o'clock Friday night, because a little after that hour Stone was seen in the car picking up his mother on Indian avenue. He also picked up Harold Nighswonger and the three of them drove down to Westmorland in the Imperial Valley and returned to Palm Springs. Why they should have returned to Palm Springs police couldn't understand, unless they were too drunk to know what they were doing. John Stone and his mother came to the village about two weeks ago, Stone planning to open a garage here. It is said that he knew Harold Nighswonger in Los Angeles. Harold Nighswonger gave his home address as Produce Hotel, Los Angeles.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY SHOWS UPWARD TREND

California has shown an immediate upward trend in business activity, according to reports from all parts of the state following the election of last week. The California municipal bond market is stronger in all respects, according to the leading bond houses, following the defeat of the pension plan. It is reported that most dealers have marked up their California municipals from 10 to 20 points.

Prominent Los Angeles firms have called attention to the fact that immediately prior to the election there was a definite slowing up of buying, which was below normal generally in the big stores. Similar reports have issued from the smaller cities. All agree that there will be a resurgence of buying for the Thanksgiving and Christmas periods.

Competition Keen For Trophies At Rifle Range

The battle is on already at the Sportsmen's Headquarters Rifle Range for the trophies that Harry Mann gives away each spring to the persons making the highest scores during the season with rifle and revolver. Competition is getting keen very early this year.

High Scores

Following are the standings of the leaders to date:

Men's rifle—Claude Binyon, 69; Louis Arpin, 68; Vic Claridge, 66.

Ladies' rifle—Florence Binyon, 65; Gladys Morris, 62; Helen Henderson and Lucille Franette, 61, (tie).

Men's revolver—William Ibach, 47; Louis Arpin and Harold Smith, 45 (tie).

A turkey shoot is also now in progress at the Sportsmen's Headquarters. The turkey shoot will last from now till Christmas, and the person making the highest score each week in the shoot will receive a turkey. The leaders this week are Claude Binyon with 55 and George Kreimer with 52.

Lions Club Speaker Tells About Mormon Pioneers

Choosing as his subject "The March of the Mormon Battalion," District Attorney Jerome Kavanaugh of San Bernardino county traced the historical movements West of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in his talk before the Palm Springs Lions Club at The Desert Inn on Thursday noon.

The speaker started out by explaining that he was not interested in the Mormon religion but wished to discuss only their pioneering. He stated that all Californians know of the pioneering here of the Mexicans, Forty-Niners and others, but that an equally courageous group were the Mormons.

The district attorney traced the movements of the Mormons from the birth in 1805 of Joseph Smith, founder of the religion, down to the time Mormon pioneers founded the town of San Bernardino.

He told of the Mormon Battalion, a band of 500 Mormons who joined the U. S. Army to come to California in 1846 to fight the Mexicans, passing through the San Bernardino Valley. He explained how in 1851 Brigham Young sent two of his churchmen to California to buy the San Bernardino valley and how Mormons then laid out the city just as they had planned Salt Lake City. Later the Mormons were called back to Salt Lake. At one time the streets of San Bernardino all bore Mormon names.

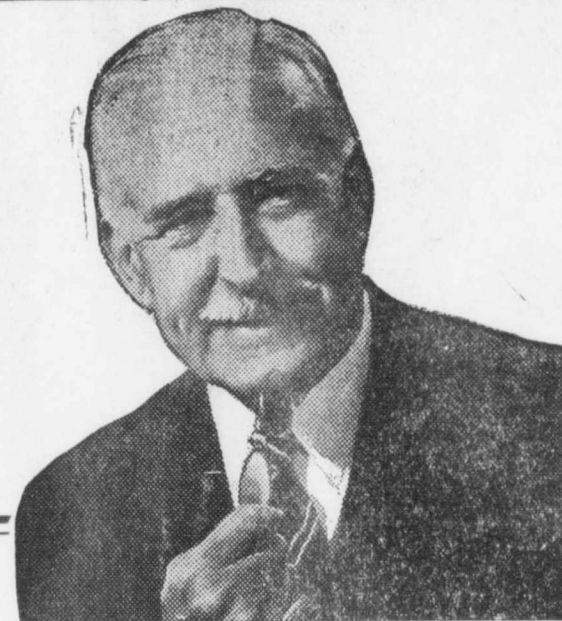

Vice-president Merrill Crockett, who presided at the luncheon meeting this week, added interest to the meeting by explaining after the speaker had concluded his talk that he is a member of the Mormon church and that his forebears came to California with the Mormon Battalion.

Father Michael O'Connor was chairman of the day and introduced the speaker.

Chief of Police W. H. Bispham and Monte Monhollen, proprietor of the Plaza Pharmacy, are new members of the local Lions Club who attended their first meeting this week.

CALIFORNIA STRAIGHT AHEAD!

There is a new optimism in the air. Business leaders of California predict a resurgence of business and use of a buying power that has been stagnant and dammed up during the last several weeks when people have been giving most of their thoughts to public issues, now happily solved.

Thanksgiving Day will soon be here and then will be the period of Christmas shopping. There has been a favorable improvement on the stock market. Optimism pervades throughout the State.

Let all citizens take courage from the Nov. 7th demonstration of faith in our form of government and mutually agree that they will continue to have a sincere interest in all our economic and social problems, having in mind the importance of assisting to solve the issues that affect the welfare and well-being of our people, to the best advantage of those in all ranks of society.

Postmaster Gorham Has New Stamp

Postmaster Gorham has on hand at the postoffice a supply of the latest stamp issued by Postmaster General James Farley. This stamp commemorates the fiftieth anniversary of the entering of several northwest states into statehood, including Washington, Montana and North and South Dakota. The stamps are almost the same shade as the desert verbenas blooming in such profusion on the desert around Palm Springs at the present time.

MANY CELEBRITIES SEEN IN LUAU ROOM

Among the prominent celebrities seen recently in the Luau room at the Palm Springs Hotel were Peter Lorre, Gilbert Roland, Franchot Tone, Jackie Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gargan, Lucille Ball, Jerome Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Charteris, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lukas, Mano Clark, Marsha Hunt, Charles Butterworth, Lois Earl, Mrs. Lee Morrison and party; Tommy Wonder, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Bogart, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bellamy, Jack Young and Edmond Godyn.

the center of the Indians for the conversion, the Bronchos met an iron wall that could not be penetrated.

Indians Take to Air

The end of the game nearing, a score of six points staring them in the face, the Indians fairly leaped into action. Instead of using their former tactics of power plays, they too, took to the air.

Hall, flashing quarterback for the Indians, tossed a twenty-yard pass to Gilmore, for the first of offensive play. Immediately after, Hall's passing arm again came back and let loose another long pass, this time to Tompkins for a completed pass that brought the Indians to within fifteen yards of the Bronchos' goal.

Although the Banning boys were trying desperately to stem the onrushing Indians, it was almost a foregone conclusion that they would score as they stood in the shadow of the Bronchos' goal posts.

For a moment it looked as though the Indians wouldn't make it, when Hall again came into the picture, taking the ball far around his own left end for a quick try to get across the line. He was stopped dead by Orville Tubbs, big Broncho tackle, on the twelve-yard line.

Palm Springs Scores

Rising hopes of Banning fans were dashed a moment later when Tomkins cut across the field, twisting and turning for an exhibition of beautiful broken field running, to make the Indians' first score.

Their attempt for conversion was successful, moving the ball around their own right end for the extra point. A few minutes later the gun went off, ending the season for the Palm Springs Indians and the Banning Bronchos.

GARBO LAUGHS IN "NINOTCHKA"!

Garbo laughed. Garbo cooked. Garbo also sang, danced to modern swing music, whistled tunes from "The Wizard of Oz," and even helped write the scenario of a Western picture in her spare time during the filming of her first sophisticated romantic comedy, "Ninotchka." She was happy. She had long wanted to appear in this type of story. She and Director Ernst Lubitsch had long wanted to work together. As a result the making of the picture took on a festive air. "Ninotchka," coming to the Palm Springs Theatre, gives the

A new laughing, singing, dancing Garbo comes to the Palm Springs Theatre screen this week in "Ninotchka," a lilted story of the adventures of a Russian girl in Paris, which gives the famous Swedish star her first modern role in many years. Above, a light-hearted scene from the picture in which Garbo joins Sig Rumann, Felix Bressart and Alexander Granach in a gay Parisian song.

Swedish star her first modern role in some years as a stern commissar from Soviet Russia who, sent to Paris on a mission, blossoms out as a glamorous creature and finds romance with a gay French count, played by Melvyn Douglas.

Ina Claire Her Rival

Ina Claire plays her love rival. The two became great friends and Miss Claire amused Garbo by tap dancing as she did in her musical comedy days to "Broadway Rhythm" or the "Beer Barrel Polka," played by Mickey Whalen's orchestra on the set between scenes.

"Ninotchka," while it has its dramatic moments, is filled with whimsical Lubitsch touches and clever dialogue. Garbo had to learn about 100 percent more lines than she had in any preceding picture. She arrived half an hour earlier than usual to rehearse them but always went home at five, with the exception of the time she offered to work at night so that Lubitsch could see his wife and baby off for England that afternoon.

At top, Garbo and Melvyn Douglas, reunited since their appearance together in "As You Desire Me," in the infectious laugh episode of "Ninotchka." Below, Garbo listens to an amusing anecdote told by her director, Ernst Lubitsch, between scenes of the gay new picture.

"NOT ACTOR!" HIS TRIBUTE TO LAUGHTON

Charles Laughton is no movie actor. He's a genius!

The man who says that Laughton is no movie actor, and yet, paradoxically enough, admires the English star for his incomparable film work is Alfred Hitchcock. Himself famed as the guiding genius of such cinematic successes as "The 39 Steps," "Secret Agent" and "The Lady Vanishes," Hitchcock speaks from the knowledge gained in close association with Laughton in the making of "Jamaica Inn," which comes to the Plaza Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23-24-25.

"Powerful Personality"
"You can't call Laughton a movie actor in the accepted sense of the term," says Hitchcock, and then proceeds to qualify his statement.

"But he is a powerful personality, a gifted delineator of colorful types, a magnificent intellect, unique and a genius, but inclined to be rhetorical.

"I found it a problem in the filming of 'Jamaica Inn' to blend his tendency toward rhetoric into the swift-moving action sequences which make up the story. I found Laughton most agreeable in this respect. We had no arguments whatsoever, because as a matter of fact, Laughton argues only with himself in the making of a picture.

Drama of Shipwreckers
"He goes through tortures of indecision creating the characterization before every scene. And then goes through the scene like the splendid trouper he actually is."

In "Jamaica Inn," Hitchcock has blended his skill as a director of mystery melodrama with the excitement of Daphne duMaurier's story of ship wreckers who once preyed on commerce along the English coast. The picture introduces a new screen beauty, Maureen O'Hara, in the cast which supports Charles Laughton and includes Leslie Banks, Emyln Williams and Robert Newton.

GARBO SINGS!

Greta Garbo's singing voice is heard for the first time in "Ninotchka," opening Thursday on the Palm Springs Theatre screen, in which the Swedish star essays her first comedy role. An amusing sequence of the new picture has Garbo singing "Marie," a Parisian song. Accompanying her were Felix Bressart, Alexander Granach and Sig Rumann, playing a trio of Russian commissars. Miss Garbo sang in a clear mezzo and got a huge "kick" out of the scene.

ND STILL THE ARBO MYTHS ON!

Swedish Actress Has Been Center of Hundreds of Legends and Rumors

As the center of Twentieth century mythology Garbo probably holds the world champion-ship. More myths have been woven around her than that of any other Hollywood star or any pure contemporary public figure. She has been the center of hundreds of legends, rumors, and tales of Hollywood folklore. She has been reported simultaneously in love with several men, some whom she probably never even knew.

The day she reported for her first scenes in "Ninotchka" she was reported being in Santa Barbara, San Francisco and San Diego. While Ernst Lubitsch was waiting for her in her ultra-modern role, first after a long series of period and historical pictures, the studio was busy answering queries regarding her supposed marriages.

She never denies or confirms rumors regarding herself, hence they grow and multiply. To her they are of no concern. There are more houses in Hollywood said to have been occupied by Garbo than she could have lived in had she changed her address every two months. There are acres of land which Garbo has been rumored as contemplating buying and building upon.

SHORT REVIEW

Greta Garbo in "Ninotchka," her first venture into sophisticated romance of today, presents a new side of her many talents at the Palm Springs Theatre. In her first ultra-modern role in some years she plays a Russian commissar who finds glamour and a great love while on a government mission to Paris. Brilliant comedy lines are contrasted with gripping dramatic moments. Ernst Lubitsch directed with his famous skill. Melvyn Douglas is suave as the gay French count for whose love Garbo outwits Ina Claire, playing the "other woman." Miss Claire plays her role with a skillful comedy touch. Garbo is gay, sings, dances to swing music, wears gorgeous Adrian creations, and in every detail presents an entirely new Garbo to her fans. A new discovery in comedy teams is the trio composed of Felix Bressart, Alexander Granach and Sig Rumann as the three chattering officials. Bela Lugosi plays his first sympathetic role on the screen and does it convincingly, as the chief commissar.

Wardrobe Record

Ina Claire, who plays Garbo's love rival in "Ninotchka," set a new high in assorted costume. Her lounging costume in the picture includes a long pink plush fur-trimmed coat, pink silk Russian blouse, pearl gray slacks, sandals, large costume necklace, surmounted by an elaborate Sidney Guilaroff hair-do.

MEET THE DIRECTOR

Ernst Lubitsch, director of Greta Garbo's new starring vehicle, "Ninotchka," was born in Berlin, January 28th. He started his career as apprentice in his father's clothing store, then began a study of drama which led to the screen. He first acted in comedies, then as character actor. Finally he won note as a director. He directed Pola Negri in "Passion" and "Gypsy Blood," and then came to Hollywood to direct Mary Pickford in "Rosita," followed by "The Marriage Circle," "Lady Windemere's Fan," "The Student Prince," "The Love Parade," "One Hour With You," "The Smiling Lieutenant" and "The Merry Widow." Others of his pictures are "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," "Angel," "Design for Living" and "Desire." Now a producer for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, he will next produce "The Shop Around the Corner."

AUTHORS COLLABORATE
Two celebrated English novelists collaborate on the writing of the Charles Laughton film, "Jamaica Inn," which comes Thursday, Friday and Saturday to the Plaza Theatre. Adapted from the best-selling novel by Daphne duMaurier, the picture has dialogue by J. B. Priestley, popular British author and lecturer.

Greta Garbo and Melvyn Douglas in "Ninotchka"

REPRODUCED PARISIAN RESTAURANT WHERE CLEMENCEAU USED TO DINE

The little Paris restaurant in which it is said Clemenceau once used to dine was reproduced from careful research and photographs of the original to provide a romantic highlight for "Ninotchka," Garbo's new starring vehicle and her first ultra-modern sophisticated romantic comedy. It serves as setting for Melvyn Douglas' courtship in the picture, which comes to the Palm Springs Theatre starting Thursday.

Garbo plays a Russian woman official reared in the stern creed of the Soviet, who, in Paris on a government mission, becomes a woman of glamour and gayeties of the French capital. The play is based on an original by Melchior Lengyel.

Elaborate settings include a great hotel in Paris, a cafe in Constantinople, authentic locales in Moscow, including the Red Square, a Parisian night club and the Eiffel Tower. Adrian designed the elaborate gowns worn in the night club sequences by the star.

"Coast Guard" Film Spectacular Story Of Navy Of Mercy

The bravery of men who give their lives that others may live is brought to the screen in Columbia's "Coast Guard," hailed by Hollywood as one of the most thrilling and dramatic records ever screened. Story of the United States Coast Guard, the new film comes to the Plaza Theatre on Monday, November 20, with Randolph Scott, Frances Dee, Ralph Bellamy and Walter Connolly featured.

Authentic and spectacular scenes provide the background against which the romantic story is painted. Magnified episodes in which the Coast Guard carries on its multiplicity of duties add a genuine thrill to the film. The picture reveals the heroic saga of the Coast Guard, with its stations standing on every coastline of America, from outposts in Alaska to modern quarters on the Gulf of Mexico. The activities of the service are clearly shown; the cutters patrolling the iceberg lanes of the North Atlantic or guarding seals from the depredations of poachers; aircraft wing over little-frequented shorelines and great ambulance planes take seriously injured men from ships at sea. Storms, shipwrecks, floods, disaster at sea, hurricanes—these are the elements from which the stirring story of "Coast Guard" is taken.

The romance centers around the whirlwind courtship of Miss Dee, granddaughter of Walter Connolly, sea-captain, by Scott, reckless pilot of a Coast Guard ambulance plane, and Bellamy, officer in the service. An outstanding group of players, including Warren Hymer, Edmund MacDonald, Mala, Stanley Brown and numerous others are included in the cast. The picture was directed by Edward Ludwig.

Wardrobe Record

Ina Claire, who plays Garbo's love rival in "Ninotchka," set a new high in assorted costume. Her lounging costume in the picture includes a long pink plush fur-trimmed coat, pink silk Russian blouse, pearl gray slacks, sandals, large costume necklace, surmounted by an elaborate Sidney Guilaroff hair-do.

MEET THE DIRECTOR

Ernst Lubitsch, director of Greta Garbo's new starring vehicle, "Ninotchka," was born in Berlin, January 28th. He started his career as apprentice in his father's clothing store, then began a study of drama which led to the screen. He first acted in comedies, then as character actor. Finally he won note as a director. He directed Pola Negri in "Passion" and "Gypsy Blood," and then came to Hollywood to direct Mary Pickford in "Rosita," followed by "The Marriage Circle," "Lady Windemere's Fan," "The Student Prince," "The Love Parade," "One Hour With You," "The Smiling Lieutenant" and "The Merry Widow." Others of his pictures are "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," "Angel," "Design for Living" and "Desire." Now a producer for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, he will next produce "The Shop Around the Corner."

AUTHORS COLLABORATE
Two celebrated English novelists collaborate on the writing of the Charles Laughton film, "Jamaica Inn," which comes Thursday, Friday and Saturday to the Plaza Theatre. Adapted from the best-selling novel by Daphne du Maurier, the picture has dialogue by J. B. Priestley, popular British author and lecturer.

REPRODUCED PARISIAN RESTAURANT WHERE CLEMENCEAU USED TO DINE

The little Paris restaurant in which it is said Clemenceau once used to dine was reproduced from careful research and photographs of the original to provide a romantic highlight for "Ninotchka," Garbo's new starring vehicle and her first ultra-modern sophisticated romantic comedy. It serves as setting for Melvyn Douglas' courtship in the picture, which comes to the Palm Springs Theatre starting Thursday.

Garbo plays a Russian woman official reared in the stern creed of the Soviet, who, in Paris on a government mission, becomes a woman of glamour and gayeties of the French capital. The play is based on an original by Melchior Lengyl. Elaborate settings include a great hotel in Paris, a cafe in Constantinople, authentic locales in Moscow, including the Red Square, a Parisian night club and the Eiffel Tower. Adrian designed the elaborate gowns worn in the night club sequences by the star.

"Coast Guard" Film Spectacular Story Of Navy Of Mercy

The bravery of men who give their lives that others may live is brought to the screen in Columbia's "Coast Guard," hailed by Hollywood as one of the most thrilling and dramatic records ever screened. Story of the United States Coast Guard, the new film comes to the Plaza Theatre on Monday, November 20, with Randolph Scott, Frances Dee, Ralph Bellamy and Walter Connolly featured.

Authentic and spectacular scenes provide the background against which the romantic story is painted. Magnified episodes in which the Coast Guard carries on its multiplicity of duties add a genuine thrill to the film.

The picture reveals the heroic saga of the Coast Guard, with its stations standing on every coastline of America, from outposts in Alaska to modern quarters on the Gulf of Mexico. The activities of the service are clearly shown; the cutters patrolling the iceberg lanes of the North Atlantic or guarding seals from the depredations of poachers; aircraft wing over little-frequented shorelines and great ambulance planes take seriously injured men from ships at sea. Storms, shipwrecks, floods, disaster at sea, hurricanes—these are the elements from which the stirring story of "Coast Guard" is taken.

The romance centers around the whirlwind courtship of Miss Dee, granddaughter of Walter Connolly, sea-captain, by Scott, reckless pilot of a Coast Guard ambulance plane, and Bellamy, officer in the service. An outstanding group of players, including Warren Hymer, Edmund MacDonald, Mala, Stanley Brown and numerous others are included in the cast. The picture was directed by Edward Ludwig.

LAUGHTON IN DU MAURIER FILM DRAMA

When Daphne du Maurier created an imaginary setting for her "Jamaica Inn," she visualized an eerie, scary hostelry of the eighteenth century, infested by cut-throats, brigands, horse-thieves and sundry criminals as the setting for an excitingly romantic tale. That is how it is brought to the screen in the Paramount production of "Jamaica Inn," which stars Charles Laughton and comes next Thursday, Friday and Saturday to the Plaza Theatre.

Few places along the rocky Cornwall coast had a more sinister connotation for the inhabitants than this inn, once really the headquarters for a band of wreckers, who lured ships to their death on the rocky bays and stripped them of their cargoes.

The screen's story revolves about Charles Laughton, a debauched squire, who controls and protects the wreckers for a share of their loot. Suspense in the story grows when Robert Newton, one of the members of the gang is rescued from death by Maureen O'Hara, sister-in-law of the gang's captain. And when this romantic pair appeal to Laughton in the mistaken belief that he will help them wipe out the gang.

From that point, the story lightens in dramatic interest as the lovers struggle to escape death at the hands of the gang, discover Laughton's trickery, and help to bring gang and leader to their deserved punishment.

A Glance Around The County

HEMET

That the Lompoc Seed company, said to be one of the state's largest dealers in beans, grain, mustard seed, potatoes, onions and other agricultural products, is interested in contracting mustard seed acreage in the Hemet Valley was revealed this week when Benjamin Granas, representative of the company, was here for the purpose of interviewing ranchers and business men.

Mustard seed has been grown successfully here the past two years for the Barkemeyer Seed company of Montana and it is said to be because of the results obtained by ranchers growing seed for the Barkemeyer firm that the Lompoc company has become interested in the possibilities for expansion of mustard seed production in the Hemet Valley and vicinity.

BLYTHE

Possibility that a playground for the use of negro children in Blythe may be developed was reported this week. According to the statement, the four city lots purchased by J. H. Dunn and S. K. Dunn at the irrigation district public auction Saturday morning will be used for this purpose.

Tennis Tournament Dance Is Benefit Affair

BOARD OF RECREATION
City of Palm Springs
California

November 15, 1939.

Dear Villager:

The Recreation Board of the City of Palm Springs is an advisory body of the city government operating a program of recreation through voluntary contributions without cost to the taxpayers.

The two public tennis courts constructed by our Board are receiving capacity use. At present we are conducting a Village Tennis Tournament in which over 150 residents of our community are participating. This tournament culminates in a Village Tournament Dance to be held this coming Saturday evening, November 18, at 9 p. m., in the Frances Stevens Auditorium. Bill Hay, radio announcer, will act as master of ceremonies in awarding tournament prizes at 10 p. m. Koelsche's nine-piece dance orchestra will provide the music for the occasion.

Enclosed you will find one ticket to the Tournament Dance. This ticket is for your use or the use of your friends. So are the Tennis Courts which we wish to improve and add to with the funds secured through the sale of these tickets at one dollar ($1) each or whatever additional amount you may wish to contribute to this worthy project.

Very sincerely yours,

MERRILL CROCKETT,
Chairman Recreational Board of the City of Palm Springs.

(Editor's note—The above letter was sent out this week to the residents of Palm Springs by the City Board of Recreation.)

BEAUMONT

A demand was shown Tuesday for Beaumont Irrigation District land. O. C. Coffey appeared before the board and asked for an option to lease 1½ sections in Noble canyon, north of the city for gold mining purposes.

The board went on record as willing to enter into a lease with Mr. Coffey with certain restrictions therein. Lease is to be drawn up by the Beaumont Irrigation District giving Mr. Coffey the right to make the necessary tests on the land with the clause entered that he is to leave the land in the same condition which he found it if his venture is unsuccessful.

COACHELLA

First steps of a major oil company toward drilling operations in the vicinity of Niland were taken Tuesday with the sale of 110 acres of land to the Venice Oil Refining Company by the Imperial Irrigation District board of directors.

The section of land lies four miles west of Niland, following the contour of the Salton Sea.

Operations will start immediately, and two derricks will be brought into the Valley from the coast. Five more derricks will follow in the near future.

Grading of the land and construction of bunk houses has already begun. Two wells will be sunk as soon as the derricks are in place. It is reported the drilling machinery will be the heaviest ever brought into the valley. One pump will weigh nine tons.

A crew of 15 men will work in three shifts on each well, it was said, each crew consisting of a "finger man," a driller, a fireman and two "cat men."

Toastmasters Club Reaches Peak Membership

Having reached its peak membership of 30, the Palm Springs Toastmasters Club this week held its second meeting since its organization. The dinner affair was held Tuesday night in the dining room of the Oasis Hotel.

The Toastmasters Club is now seeking a permanent meeting place, as the Oasis can not accommodate them permanently. The club will hold a dinner meeting on Tuesday night of each week from 6:15 to 9:00.

According to the rules set down by Toastmasters International, a Toastmasters Club is limited to 30 members. The Palm Springs group has already reached that proportion.

The membership of the local club is as follows. Morris F. Richardson, president; Walter Testa, John Kluckman, Dr. Henry S. Reid, Dr. Russell M. Gray, Alvin Weingarten, Judge Albert R. Hoffman, Louis Venger, Homer Jenkins, Ray Sorum, Harry N. Williams, Fred Ingram, Stuart J. Kann, Lloyd Simon, Armand V. Turonnet, Francis Crocker, Merrill Crockett, Florian Boyd, Frank Partridge, Reg. C. Jones, Eugene Theriault, John Chaffey, Rex Thompson, Jerry Shill, Peter B. Steptenko, Charles Burket, Jerry Sanborn, Father Michael O'Connor, Harold Hicks and Maurice McCann.

School Children Visit Armstrong Dairy

The second grade class of the Frances S. Stevens school, accompanied by several parents, enjoyed a tour of the Armstrong dairy in Beaumont recently. Mr. Armstrong conducted the group through the dairy and around the dairy farm. The children witnessed the milking of cows by hand and by electric milking machines, the pasteurizing of milk and filling and capping of milk bottles.

The boys were especially interested in a Holstein bull weighing 2600 pounds. Parents and children had lunch in the employees' dining room, where milk and ice cream was served through the courtesy of the Armstrong dairy.

Adults attending the trip were: Mrs. Philip Boyd, Mrs. Thomas Luke, Mrs. Sales, Mrs. Violet Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Matloff, Mr. James Prevatt, Miss Katherine Finchy and Miss Geraldine Hayes, teacher of the second grade.

The following pupils going were: Spencer Boyd, Diane Crandall, Jimmy Hancock, Edna Mae Hayes, Tommy Luke, Shirley Matloff, Betty McGrath, Mary Coutts, Ann Oliver, James Prevatt, Jr., Billy Knight, Buddy Sales, Donna Mae Sorum, Frances Mash, Shirley Graham, Jimmy Wills, Geska Rae Strebe, Barbara Jane Sullivan and George Keenan.
